Urges Congress To Speed Action On Heavy Taxes

Economic Stabilizer Warns Congress To 'Tax Hard' Immediately

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(INS) — Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston warned Congress today that a failure to "tax hard" immediately "will be perilous to our country's strength and safety."

Johnston told the Ways and Means Committee, which is considering President Truman's new tax request, that "at least $10,000,000,000 in additional taxes will be required." Johnston added:

"To delay action on such a bill, in my judgement, will endanger the government's fiscal position through rising debt and through higher prices to military goods.

"Delay will also hurt the welfare of our whole economy and will undermine the integrity of the dollar."

Sees Stabilizing

In response to questioning, Johnston told the committee that he believes prices will be stabilized by mid-summer and that it will be possible to hold that line for the remainder of the year. He said:

"Our objective is clear, as quickly as possible, to arrive at a price level which can be held. We intend to take whatever measures are within our power to hold this level, and to ask Congress for such additional authority as we may find we need."

The economic stabilizer told the committee that the U.S. standard of living this year "will probably be slightly lower than last year."

But, he said that if a well-coordinated program is carried through to halt inflation:

"Barring a full scale attack, I believe that two years will be as long as we may need controls."

PA NEWC OBSERVES

In addition to being kept busy helping local folks file their 1950 income tax returns, along with their estimate for 1951, the confusion has been added to by folks who bring little children with them. Getting tired of the long wait, while their parents stand in line, the youngsters start wailing, making things uncomfortable. The office staff is hopeful that folks with small children will leave them at home, because sometimes the wait is a long one.

Temperatures which skidded below the freezing mark, followed by a drizzle, called out Highway department and city cindering crews at midnight last night in order to cope with the icy condition which resulted on district roads and local streets. The men returned early this morning and applied more abrasive material in order that motorists could safely proceed to their places of employment. Side roads were a sheet of glass.

District ice jams which occurred on Tuesday released themselves in most instances of their own accord and prevented major flooding conditions in numerous rural areas. The creeks where the condition prevailed have lowered somewhat, although they are higher than normal, due to the thaw. Blocked roads have now been opened to traffic.

U.N. Begins Study Of New Disarmament Approach

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Twelve members of the United Nations, including the big five, meet at Lake Success today to begin study of a new approach to the question of disarmament.

They will sit as a special committee set up by the general assembly on December 13, 1950, to determine whether or not the two deadlocked commissions on atomic and conventional weapons could merge and resume work.

Nations represented on the committee are: Britain, Canada, China, Cuba, Ecuador, Egypt, India, Norway, The Soviet Union, United States and Yugoslavia.

Idea Suggested

The idea of combining the commissions was originally suggested by President Truman in an address before the United Nations last October 24.

Later, Australia, Canada, Ecuador, France, The Netherlands, Turkey, Britain and the United

LLOYD C. DOUGLAS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Lloyd Cassel Douglas, who spent the first 50 years of his life as a minister and then became famous overnight as a novelist, died late last night in Los Angeles.

The famed author of such ascetic novels as "The Robe," "Magnificent Obsession," and "Green Light" succumbed to a heart condition at Good Samaritan Hospital. He was 73 years old.

At his bedside were his two daughters, Mrs. J. Weldon Wilson of Las Vegas, Nev., and Mrs. Howard L. Dawson of Montreal, Canada.

Douglas entered Good Samaritan on Sunday.

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

T. G. McCormick Is Accidentally Killed Tuesday

Requiem mass for Thomas G. McCormick, aged 58 years, of R. D. 4, who was accidentally electrocuted Tuesday while working on Cranberry road, near Grove City, will be offered Friday morning at 10 o'clock, in St. Mary's church, this city.

According to word received here, Mr. McCormick, a stone mason and carpenter, was working on the roof of a two-story cement block chicken house under construction on the property owned by Mrs. Margaret Stone, of

Like the necklines on television, the mercury was plunging today in Western Pennsylvania and below freezing temperatures made driving risky everywhere.

Freezing rains, sleet and brief snow squalls struck many areas, glazing roads with ice and freezing on foliage.

Tonight will be much colder with a low near 15 forecasted by the weather bureau which added that occasional snow tomorrow will be mixed with some sleet in the south portion.

Columbia Is Seeking State Aid In Flood

COLUMBIA, Pa., Feb. 14.—(INS)—A promise of state aid was held out to the 12,000 residents of Columbia today as the borough's water famine stretched into its sixth day.

Chief Burgess Walter Roye said assurances of help had followed appeals yesterday to Gov. John S. Fine and U. S. James H. Duff.

"The state of emergency is still on and will stay on until we are assured of sufficient water for home needs, industry and proper fire protection," Roye declared.

Abandon Truck Lines

Tank truck operations which had supplied 1,500,000 gallons of water from 18-miles-distant Lancaster since Monday had to be abandoned last night.

Red Cross officials said the road leading to the reservoir had become too muddy for the trucks to continue. Stones dumped along the road by the borough's street department sank through when trucks ran over them.

The water scarcity began last Friday when a five-mile-long plug of ice in the Susquehanna river sent water spilling over the banks into the filter beds and pumps of the privately-owned Columbia Water Co.

Drinking water is rationed on the daily basis of one quart a person while water for sanitary and fire-fighting purposes is being pumped into the borough reservoir.

Compromise Is Expected Now On Wage Freeze

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Wage Stabilization Board Chairman Cyrus S. Ching is expected to propose a compromise today in the WSB stalemate on a formula to relax the three-week old government pay freeze.

Ching and his associate public members are seeking to win the support of union or industry board representatives on the size of pay boosts to be allowed under the stabilization program.

Industry insists that the WSB should permit increases of only seven to eight per cent for the period since January 15, 1950, with a review of the situation next June to see if rising living costs justify a further boost.

To Ask Congress For Action To End State Of War

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson said today that the Truman Administration intends to press Congress for action ending the technical state of war with western Germany.

Acheson made the statement at a new conference in which he emphasized an unchanged American policy toward the Bonn government.

The secretary said it was agreed at Brussels, and confirmed by U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy in Germany, that there would be no pressuring of young Germans to enter military service in the North Atlantic defense army.

Meanwhile, Acheson said, talks are proceeding with the west Germans on political and economic adjustments designed to strengthen the west German position.

Acheson recalled his meeting earlier in the week with six members of the Bundestag, representing three parties. He said the hour and one-half exchange of views was highly interesting and he found very little difference of opinion among his legislative callers.

U.N. Forces Repulse Heavy Attacks On Central Front

—Acme Telephoto

KOREA—South Korean Marines stormed ashore near big northeast Korean port of Wonsan (1) in the wake of a naval bombardment led by the United States battleship Missouri. The Wonsan thrust may have been designed to draw off Red reinforcements (tank symbols) streaming south to join the estimated 173,000 enemy troops massed for the attack on the central front. The dramatic landing came as Communists outflanked Wonju (2) and reportedly overran vital supply highway running west toward Seoul (3). Chinese troops swarmed over 20 mile gap between Wonju and Chipyong (4) where encircled Franco-American garrison beat off an enemy attempt to break through and outflank 100,000 United Nations troops below Seoul.

House Republicans Begin 'Grass Roots' Movement

By GLENN M. GREEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—House Republicans kick off a "grass roots" movement today for an "impregnable" United States and prior congressional approval of presidential military decisions.

The issue will be tossed into a full-fledged floor debate today.

Sponsors of GOP "declaration of policy" were aiming for 125 signatures by noon, with at least 116 already obtained. That was far more than a majority of the 199 Republicans in the House.

The six-point declaration follows closely the views of ex-president Hoover, who touched off the "great debate" on current foreign policy, and Senate GOP policy chief Taft (R) Ohio.

It differs materially from the approach suggested by such Republican party leaders as New York Gov. Dewey, State Department Adviser Dulles and former Minnesota Gov. Stassen.

Significantly missing from the list of declaration signers is the House Republican leadership—Minority Leader Martin (R) Mass., Minority Whip Arends (R) Ill., and Rep. Halleck (R) Ind., Majority Leader in the Republican 80th Congress.

Smith Is Author

Rep. Lawrence Smith (R) Wis., regarded as leading the Republican opposition to administration policies in the Foreign Affairs Committee, is the author of the declaration.

Asked about the absence of Republican leaders from the signatories, Smith explained:

"The leadership took the position that it should take no position on this matter. To me, that is fatal. The time has come for the party to take a position.

"But this is actually a grass roots movement among the Re-

New Castle and Lawrence county citizens awoke this morning to find the area coated wtih a thin sheath of ice, making travel again precarious.

Rain, which fell late yesterday, froze as the temperature dropped below freezing shortly before midnight last night.

Most of the curves and hills were covered with ashes to protect motorists, but travel was precarious at other spots.

This is the third or fourth time this winter that this condition has existed. which has resulted in injury to a great number of persons, who have suffered broken arms and legs.

Most of the ice and snow which had covered the area was melted away by the warm temperatures which had prevailed since Sunday until today, although there are still many icy spots which failed to yield the above-freezing warmth.

Surprise East Coast Landing Made By Koreans

U.N. Forces Beat Back Frenzied Attacks By Chinese

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Feb. 15—(Thursday)—South Korean marines stormed ashore near Wonsan on Korea's east coast far behind enemy lines Wednesday while in the interior other United Nations forces repulsed Red attacks which threatened to sever the peninsula's key lateral highway.

Thousands of enemy troops were reported on the move in the central sector where American and French troops threw back wave after wave of suicidal Chinese Communist attacks at Chipyong in hand-to-hand fighting.

Enemy troops managed to set up roadblocks across the vital stretch of highway between Wonju and Yoju but these were eliminated by UN forces.

International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne reported in a dispatch at 8 o'clock Wednesday night (6 a.m. EST) that details of the fighting were scanty. He said, however, that the roadblocks were smashed "apparently in a short fight."

Surprise Landing

The surprise east coast amphibious landing carried out by Republic of Korean marines was preceded by a heavy naval bombardment of Wonsan which lies 80 miles above the 38th Parallel border between North ond South Korea.

The 45,000-ton battleship Missouri led a task force of cruisers and destroyers in a bombardment of coastal installations which lasted for several hours.

A ROK Navy officer was quoted in a dispatch from Pusan as saying the landing was made "in great strength" to enable the amphibious troops to conduct "independent operations."

American forces landed at Wonsan last fall but later withdrew when the UN offensive in northeast Korea was abandoned.

One ROK unit occupied an island five miles from Wonsan Wednesday afternoon against resistance described as light while other forces hit the coast itself.

Scales Wall To Escape Prison

(BULLETIN)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14. — An alleged parole violator described as a "dangerous man," escaped from Moyamensing prison in Philadelphia today by scaling a wall.

A prison spokesman identified the fugitive as George T. Wallace, 35, of Philadelphia, who was awaiting trial on highway robbery charges.

The spokesman said Wallace was arrested on Jan. 29 as a parole violator.

Wallace scalled a wall between two buildings and was seen by a guard just as he disappeared from view. He had gone into the outside yard ostensibly to obtain tools from the machine shop.

Warns Russia On Yugoslavia

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson today sharply warned Russia against any aggressive moves at Yugoslavia.

The secretary quoted a statement of July 19 by President Truman in which the latter said those who hold it in their power to unloose armed forces strain the fabric of world peace.

Acheson said the U. S. attitude toward aggression had been made very clear in Korea.

Acheson was asked at his news conference whether the U. S. position that any aggression in Yugoslavia would strain world relations had been conveyed to Russia and the satellite powers bordering Tito's state.

He replied he was not sure that such a formal declaration had taken place, but he made it today informally in his news conference.

The declaration urges:

1. Full participation in and approval by Congress of future U. S. military-political policy.
2. Rendering the U. S. "impregnable to attack."
3. Reduction of non-essential civilian expenditures.
4. Building a strong defense system in the Western hemisphere.
5. Establishment of a strong defense line in the Atlantic and Pacific with a refusal of "aid of any kind to Western Europe unless persuaded that Western Europe is carrying its full share of the burden." But Britain and the commonwealth would be included "in any case."

Stocks Are Ample

Stocks at this time are ample, but with good weather in view, many of the choice items will go early and it is advised that those desiring not to be disappointed be on hand early to share in the values that will be offered for this one day only.

The 44 co-operating merchants ask that shoppers be on the lookout for the Dollar Day streamers which will be displayed on their show windows, indicating that they are participating in the big sales event which is bound to attract thrift-minded individuals in great throngs to the shopping district of the city.

Regular store hours will be observed during the one-day sales event, with the participating stores opening at 9:30 a. m. and closing at five p. m. Sufficient clerks will be on hand to serve customers as they take advantage of the many bargains which will be presented on New Castle Dollar Day, Thursday, Feb. 15.

SURPRISE EAST COAST LANDING BY KOREANS

of the landing said American marines took part but this was denied by U.S. Navy Headquarters in Tokyo.

Far southeast of Wonsan, Communist troops, pressing a three-day offensive, launched new attacks in the Seoul area and on the central front.

On the central front, UN forces beat back frenzied suicidal attacks by Chinese Communist troops at Chipyong but other Red units bypassed the town and slashed within two miles of the main highway that cuts across the mountains of Korea.

UN forces defending the vital stretch of highway between Wonju and Yoju repulsed a Red attack at one point and were under small arms fire at another spot. This was reported in a dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne at 8 o'clock Wednesday night (6 a.m. EST).

Heavy Troop Movements

Schakne said Chinese Red troops smashed southward to within two miles of the town of Pupyong which is on the highway 13 miles southwest of Wonju.

Heavy Red troops movements were reported north and northwest of Wonju and Allied planes hammered them almost incessantly.

American and French troops at Chipyong held grimly to their positions and by mid-afternoon the "enemy banzai" assaults dwindled to the point where they were called "moderate" by a U.S. Tenth Corps spokesman. Chipyong is 33 air miles east-southeast of Seoul, the Red-held Korean national capital.

Seek To Stay on Offensive

But Chinese Communist troop movements along the blazing central sector indicated they intend to remain on the offensive. Air spotters reported that some 8,000 Red troops were moved into the area north of Wonju. Enemy troop concentrations were reported forming near Anchang, four miles northwest of Wonju.

One Red column moving south along the banks of the Som river near Anchang was caught by UN warplanes and heavy casualties were inflicted.

The UN force at Chipyong formed a bulge in the Allied line following the fall of Hoengsong to Red troops. Chipyong, in the mountains of the central Korean range, lies 20 miles west of Hoengsong.

Red troops plunged forward from Hoengsong threatening Wonju, key road and rail hub, ten miles to the south.

COMPROMISE EXPECTED NOW ON WAGE FREEZE

demanding a 12 per cent increase for the period from May 24, 1950 to last December 15 with additional adjustments March 1 and June 1 based on the government's cost of living index.

Stabilization officials said Ching and public members John Dunlop and Clark Kerr will seek a compromise between these two positions but did not disclose its exact terms.

The formula is designed to permit workers who did not share in last year's round of wage boosts to "catch up" now by negotiating with their employers for increases.

Both industry and labor board members opposed the initial proposal put forward by the public group. It called for approval of eight per cent increases from last March 15 to the January 25 freeze date and would validate all existing contracts until June 1.

T. G. McCORMICK ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Tucson, Ariz. This property is occupied by her brother, Theodore S. Minor.

Mrs. Minor related that McCormick had remarked to her husband and another workman about 10 minutes before the accident that they would have to watch out for the power line which was about two feet above their heads. The three men were holding a steel tape measure when Mr. McCormick apparently bumped his head against the wire and "seemed to glide off the roof," it was reported. The other two men were shocked, but not seriously and were able to retain their footing on the roof.

Death by electrocution was pronounced by Dr. Donald Wonsetter, deputy coroner from Grove City.

Born In Grant City

Mr. McCormick was born April 1, 1892, in Grant City, Pa., son of Mrs. Catherine Vocke McCormick and the late John F. McCormick.

He was a veteran of World War I and was a carpenter by trade.

His wife, Mrs. Pearl Bruce McCormick, survives; his mother, Mrs. John F. McCormick; brothers: John H., this city; Edward H. of Slippery Rock; William P. of Slippery Rock and Daniel McCormick of Portersville. He also leaves three sisters: Mrs. Eleanor McGill, Jackson Center, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Haney, Portersville, and Mrs. Alice Haney, of this city.

A brother, Joseph, died in March, 1950.

The body is at the A. Darrel Burke funeral home, North Jefferson street, where friends may call tonight 7 to 9 o'clock, and Thursday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Burial will take place in St. Mary's cemetery after the requiem mass.

B-29 Superforts Are Attacked In Flights Over Korea

TOKYO, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Three formations of B-29 Superfortresses were attacked by at least seven MIG-15 jet fighters over Korea today but escaped damage.

The first three flights out of five which landed at a Japanese base reported the MIGs made passes at the Superforts during a bomb run on a Communist encampment at Tokchon in North Korea.

It was believed that one MIG was hit.

The planes returned to Japan and landed in a snowstorm.

U.N. BEGINS STUDY OF DISARMAMENT

States submitted a resolution calling for a merger of the two commissions. It was passed, forming the present 12-member body.

Each deadlocked commission consists of eleven members of the security council. It was felt that combining them would improve the work of both.

This was especially true of the atomic energy commission which has been stalemated over Russia's refusal to put into practice the assembly's plan for international control of atomic energy. This was based on the American plan, the so-called "Baruch plan," providing for inspection and controls.

The commission on conventional armaments has feared little better. It has busied itself mainly with a proposed census of non-atomic weapons.

PLAN TO START SENATE HEARINGS

U. S. troops to Europe have been shooting for extended public hearings, hoping to muster public support for their position in the interim.

Will Hear Three Or Four

Wherry submitted a list of 15 air power witnesses, led by Lt. Gen. Curtis Lemay, chief of the Strategic Bombing Command, and Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, retired, World War II bomber chief in Europe.

But Connally told newsman:

"We're not going to hear all of them. Wherry can pick out three or four as a representative group and we'll hear those."

Russell agreed that it would be almost unprecendented for the two committees to hear so many witnesses on a single facet of the subject.

Defense Secretary Marshall will open the Senate hearings Thursday morning, followed by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. Secretary of State Acheson will be heard next, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, European defense chief, is expected to be recalled.

Former President Hoover, it is almost certain, will be invited to testify at the request of one or more committee members.

United Nations forces in Korea treat prisoners of war in accordance with the 1949 Geneva Convention pertaining to such prisoners.

Former Resident Taken By Death

George F. Berger, aged 61 years of 50 Hilton avenue, Youngstown, O., and former resident, died of a heart ailment at 9:15 a. m. on Tuesday, at his home.

Born August 6, 1889, in New Castle, Pa., Mr. Berger was a son of George and Catherine Moore Berger. He came to Youngstown from New Castle 52 years ago. He was employed as a foreman at the Truscon Steel Co.

He was a member of the Mahoning Valley Foremen's Association, AOH, the Holy Name Society and St. Dominic church.

Besides his wife, the former Frances Conroy, whom he married 38 years ago, he leaves his mother of Youngstown; two sons, George E. of Youngstown and Jack of Hollywood, Calif.; two brothers, Joseph B. and Edward J. of Youngstown; a sister, Mrs. Frank O. Martin of Youngstown, and four grandchildren.

The body is at the McVean Funeral Home, Youngstown, O., where friends may call.

Requiem mass will be offered Friday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Dominic's church, Youngstown, O. Burial will be in that city.

PIN-WORMS GO! Jayne's P-W Gets Real Results
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.
JAYNE'S P-W for PIN-WORMS

Did You Recently Come to New Castle?

In times like these the needs of industry draw many new families into cities like New Castle. Most of them will like our community and stay to become valued citizens.
It is not probable that funeral service will be among the early needs of these new citizens. However, it is well to know of New Castle funeral homes and what they have to offer. To that end we invite a visit and frank discussion of our services and prices.
Aside from our service to individual patrons—these are always confidential—there is nothing about our business that the public may not know. Our dealings always have been on this open basis.

EDWARDS SOCIETY INSTALLS OFFICERS

Edwards Missionary society of First Christian church was entertained Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. A. W. Zeigler, Winter avenue.

Mrs. Zeigler conducted an impressive ceremony, when the following officers were installed: president, Mrs. Ralph Logan; vice president, Mrs. William Finefrock; secretary, Miss Laura Snider, and treasurer, Mrs. W. T. Jameson.

Miss Snider led devotions, using "The Slighted Invitation" as her theme. An informative discussion on the subject, "American Missions," was led by Miss Emma Patton.

The following committees were appointed: ways and means, Miss Emma Patton, Mrs. Harold Dunlap and Mrs. Karl Chandler, and program, Mrs. W. T. Jameson, Mrs. Charles Hay and Mrs. Ralph Logan.

Mrs. Harry Glover aided the hostess in serving a refreshing lunch. Mrs. Harold Dunlap will entertain in March, when Mrs. W. T. Jameson will be the leader.

D.A.R. CHAPTER PLANS MUSICALE

Plans have been completed by Lawrence Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for a colonial musical tea on Saturday, Feb. 17, at 2:30 p.m., in The Castleton hotel. The music committee, of which Mrs. William J. Caldwell is chairman, has arranged for the afternoon's program.

Those participating in the program, follow: Arthur Jones, tenor; William Dembaugh, baritone; Miss Lois Baum, piano soloist; Miss Barbara Cloud, reader, and Miss Juanita Sindel, accompanist.

A meeting of the executive board, governing board and the program committee at 1:30 p.m. will precede the program.

Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, Miss Rose M. Barber, Miss Mary R. Clarke, Mrs. C. H. Fischer, Mrs. A. H. Fullerton, Miss Alma E. Locke, Mrs. J. F. Rentz, Mrs. Harry V. Mason, Mrs. M. L. Magill, Mrs. F. M. Moorehead, Mrs. John B. Norris, Mrs. F. G. Simonton and Miss Viola Wallace compose the hostess committee.

Victory Bible Class Change

Members of the Victory Bible class have cancelled their meeting, planned for this month. The group will assemble in St. John's Lutheran church on Friday evening, March 2.

Club Postponed

The Canasta club, which was to meet with Mrs. Luther Wine, Wilmington road, Thursday of this week, will be postponed until Thursday, March 1.

MISS MILLER GREETS VON BORA SOCIETY

Members of the Catherine Von Bora Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran held their monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Adeline Miller, Reis street, with Miss Katherine Eve as associate hostess.

Mrs. Adelma Agnew, leader, presented a thought-provoking program entitled "In Deep Humility", with various members of the group participating. Emphasis was placed upon "Our Worship, Our Membership and Our Stewardship."

During the business meeting which was conducted by the president, Katherine Eve, members voted to furnish linens for a room in the new wing of the Old People's Home at Zelienople.

Mrs. Betty Trent and Mrs. Marie Gilbert were welcomed as new members of the society. Later a delicious tray lunch was served by the hostesses, with the valentine motif predominating in the menu.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Barnsley, 126 West Laurel avenue, with Mrs. Ben Agnew as a co-hostess. Mrs. Elmer Brown will be the leader.

LADIES OF LIONS BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

A valentine lunch highlighted the festivities at the meeting of the Ladies of Lions at The Castleton hotel on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Samuel Rashid was chairman of the occasion.

A short business meeting was conducted, with bridge as the later diversion. Successful in capturing prizes were Mrs. Henry Broad, Mrs. Ray Cunningham, Mrs. Harding Thayer and Mrs. Don Hackett. The door prize went to Mrs. Pearson Furst.

Mrs. Chester Dean will review a current popular book at the next meeting on March 13. Chairman of the event will Mrs. Richard I. Davis, with hostesses to include Mrs. H. B. Bush, Mrs. James Beadel, Mrs. R. D. Cunningham, Mrs. Claude Jenkins, Mrs. Dewey Shifflet, Mrs. Clarence Hough, Mrs. Loy Pattersen, Mrs. David Rowe, Mrs. E. L. Stitzinger, Mrs. M. V. Hyde, Mrs. Donald Hackett, Mrs. Gilbert Hoffman and Mrs. W. Jones.

The place of the meeting will be announced later.

MARJORIE NOGGLE'S ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. William Noggle, of R.D. 7, Mahoningtown, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Glenn Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Clark, of R.D. 1, Enon Valley. Wedding plans are indefinite.

CUNNINGHAM-HAZEN VOWS EXCHANGED

An impressive double ring ceremony united the lives of Miss Dorothy Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cunningham of Wurtemburg, and Harry H. Hazen, son of Mrs. Hazel Hazen of New Castle.

Several friends and relatives attended the ceremony in the Wurtemburg Methodist church on Saturday, Feb. 10, at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Harry Leland, pastor, performing the rite. Mrs. Leland accompanied Mrs. Lester Shannon as she sang several nuptial selections.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a fashionable blue dress with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Madolyn Main attended the bride as maid of honor wearing a brown dress with a yellow rosebud corsage. Keith Beachem served the groom as best man, with Ray Cunningham, brother of the bride, and Paul Hazen, brother of the groom, as ushers.

A reception was held in the social room of the church following the ceremony, with aides including Mrs. William Cunningham, Mrs. Ray Cunningham, Mrs. Ella Wimer and Miss Lazetta Bender. A tiered wedding cake and other refreshments graced the table. A supper was served to the bridal party and immediate families at the bride's home.

The young couple departed for a wedding trip to Cleveland, and will reside at 734 Park avenue, Ellwood City.

Mrs. Hazen was graduated from the Ellwood City high school, class of 1950, and Mr. Hazen with the class of 1948 from the same school.

A.U.R. SOCIETY HEARS MRS. FREW

A. U. R. Missionary society of Central Presbyterian church assembled Tuesday evening in Highland U. P. church. Mrs. Howard C. Frew, a guest, gave an outstanding review of the foreign study book, "Near East Panorama" by Glora M. Wysner.

Mrs. Clifford M. Propst led the worship period, using "Miniatures From Clothes With Power" as her theme. Miss Margaret Lowery gave a timely talk on "Stewardship". Mrs. Roland Peden sang "Prayer Perfect" as a solo with Mrs. E. F. Brown as accompanist. Mrs. John F. Love pleased with a piano solo.

Mrs. A. T. Sadler, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Peden were in charge of the valentine gift exchange.

A refreshing lunch was served by Mrs. John F. Love, Miss Fannie M. Love and Mrs. E. L. Thompson, hostesses.

A box lunch will be a feature of Tuesday evening, March 13, at the Y. W. C. A.

RECENT BRIDE GUEST AT SHOWER

The former Emma Calabrese was honored recently at a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Fred DePolis, 1009 Cunningham avenue.

Various games were enjoyed during the evening, with prizes going to Miss Jo DeMarco, Mrs. Emma Calabrese, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Amelia Vascilzak. The door prize was awarded to Mrs. Mary Augustine. Several lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature were presented to the honored guest.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, with a pastel color scheme carried out in the decorations. A large cake revealed the news 'Emma and Jake." Assisting the hostess were Miss Jo DeMarco and Miss Theresa DeCaprio.

Miss Calabrese became the bride of Jake Augustine on February 3.

LAURA TEMPESTA FETED AT SHOWER

Miss Laura Tempesta a bride elect of March, was the guest of honor at a lovely pre-nuptial surprise shower party held recently by the girls of Department 40 of the Shenango Pottery company.

The event was held at the home of Miss Gertrude Capperino of 501 Florence avenue.

Playing games and the watching television were the evening pastimes during the informal social hour.

At an appropriate hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch on a table nicely arranged for the occasion. The Miss Frances Capperino assisted her sister in serving.

Many lovely gifts were received by the honoree and these were arranged under a gayly decorated umbrella.

Miss Tempesta, daughter of Pasquale Tempesta of 719 South Mill street, will become the bride of Anthony Pavia, of 411 Duquesne avenue, on Saturday, March 31. The open church ceremony will be in St. Vitus church.

M'Ette Club Meets

Mrs. Henry Dinafore of Beckford street welcomed members of the M'Ette club into her home on a recent evening. A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Charles Mancine, newly elected president. New rules and regulations were discussed and put into effect.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing canasta, with high score prizes going to Mrs. Charles Mancine and Mrs. Ben Panella. The latter was also a special guest of the evening. Mrs. Charles Mancine captured the door prize.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held February 22 at the home of Mrs. Phillip Bruno, R. D. 6, Butler road.

ECONOMY WITHOUT PAIN

Taxes, far from painless now, are going to be increased until it really hurts. After that is done, President Truman has announced, he intends to call for still another increase—the third in less than a year.

There is plenty of economy talk in Congress, suggesting that the pain of the third raise can be avoided if non-essential expenditures of government are cut. Senator Byrd is convinced as much as $9,000,000,000 can be saved that way.

But will it be? The record shows that after Congressmen get through logrolling to get their pet projects included in appropriations bills, large-scale economy tends to become a casualty.

Former President Herbert Hoover recently discussed economy, and he said a mouthful. In a letter to Senator Lodge, he estimated that more than $5,000,000,000 a year might be saved if Congress adopted all the suggestions of the commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, better known as the Hoover Commission. It would be hard to think of a time, certainly, when savings would be more welcome.

Mr. Hoover says that less than 50 per cent of the Hoover Commission's recommendations have been adopted so far. Other measures he urges would help attract better administrators and specialists—potentially a source of big savings. Efficiency reforms are urgently needed, he points out, in such fields as water resources development, public works, veterans' administration, federal medical programs, the Department of Agriculture, and the politics-ridden Post Office Department.

All these proposals have encountered considerable opposition by interested parties. That is why they haven't been adopted. But the taxpayer, with one bite just taken out of his hide and two more in prospect, is an interested party, too. If he knows what's good for him, he'll make his voice heard.

WHERE LENIN WAS RIGHT

Reports of outbreaks of "Titoism" behind the Iron Curtain are in the category of rumors rather than of facts. If they turn out to be true, they may add up to one of the big news stories of 1951.

The disappearance of former Foreign Minister Clementis and the house arrest of President Gootwald of Czechoslovakia, the desertion of the party by important communist officials of France and Italy, together with persistent indications of similar difficulties farther east, may be signs of an outbreak of "bourgeois devationism" that could shake the bolshevik monolith to its foundations.

Lenin would have understood such a development. He warned the comrades: "We Russians have never been able to make anything but serfs of conquered people." And he once wrote a letter saying that Stalin, though a useful tool, was too ruthless and bloody a man to unite the cause of world communism.

Communist leaders like to be able to tell themselves that their tactics and principles will make their own countries better. Stalin clashes headon with such ingrained patriotic sentiments when he forces his lieutenants in other lands to put Russia first and the homeland second. This policy has already lost Yugoslavia to bolshevism, and Tito's example has inspired widespread envy in those lands where the Communists are strongest.

The United States probably cannot lend much direct aid to Communist devationists. But time is on this country's side in this category, and may produce inside the Communist world splits such as few today dare hope for.

BLACK MARKET WARNING GIVEN

More or less trouble is usually created by concerns or individuals who violate the regulations that may be imposed by government authority, and the results in the black market.

Many will recall the shameful conditions created by black markets in meat handling during the rationing period of the World War, and the difficulty of making curbs effective.

Michael V. DiSalle, former mayor of Toledo, who resigned to become the nation's price chief, promises the public that black marketeers in meat will be vigorously prosecuted if caught.

Enforcer DiSalle indicates that his government agency has learned a positive technique in dealing with black market violators, and he promises to make an example of the first ones caught.

The law imposes a fine of $10,000 and one year in jail, either or both, on violators of the food regulations, and there is also some unfavorable publiicty awaiting offenders.

"We know that it takes two to make a black market—the buyers as well as the seller—and this time we are going after both," Chief DiSalle said in his statement of plans.

A pre-Lenten carnival in Brazil resulted in more than 4,500 wounded and injured. Must have celebrated in the Souse American way.

Rainmakers have organized themselves into the National Weather Improvement Society. "Weather improvement," eh? OK, guys, get busy and do something about February—but quick!

The temperature, says a scientist, can be determined by watching the movements of ants. Hmm, he can keep his old ants, and welcome to them—we'll stick with the old-fashioned thermometer, which doesn't get into the sugar bowl.

Franco-Italian Entente?

A Franco-Italian entente possibly going far beyond the scope of any previous peacetime agreement in Europe promises today to emerge from an extraordinary top-level conference on the Italian Riviera.

The conferees are Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza for Italy and Premier Rene Pleven and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman for France.

Military and economic issues have high places on the agenda.

But over and above the factual, material matters is a determination, at least by Italy, to comment and ensure Franco-Italian friendship and solidarity.

Traditional Bonds

Much has been said in the Italian press of late concerning the traditional bonds between Europe's two "Latin sisters" and two factors are being pointed up as stressin the absolute need for these nations to stand together, firm and resolute, and in complete harmony and understanding.

One is the rearmament of western Germany.

The other is Britain's sometimes isolationist role in the affairs of the continent.

De Gasperi and Sforza take the view that French fears regarding a remilitarized Germany can be solved easily and speedily by working out a concerted plan of action with Italy in every sphere affecting the joint destinies of the two countries.

Italian View

The Italian government takes the view that Italy, when rearmed and strong, will be the best possible safeguard for France if she feels that a revitalized Germany might at any time become a menace to her eastern frontier.

With regard to Great Britain and oft-expressed French dissatisfaction over certain British policies, De Gasperi and Sforza say that if full and complete Franco-Italian collaboration is carried out, France can afford to pay less attention to the British Isles and concentrate on prosperity of the west European continent.

Count Sforza made one attempt to establish a Franco-Italian customs union.

Bogged Down

It bogged down, for it developed that France and Italy will have too many purely individualistic interests and commitments elsewhere to make it workable.

But Sforza still thinks it can be done, if tied in with other matters such as tariff barriers and migration of Italian workers to undermanned France.

Initially, Sforza hopes to achieve a permanent joint body to coordinate Franco-Italian affairs in every field.

He believes that if this is done, ways and means can be found to integrate French and Italian military strength and problems, while at the same time clearing obstacles that have held up the Schuman plan for pooling French and German iron and steel resources.

Sforza recently said:

"The experiences of the last few years have taught us that every form of international collaboration—and economic collaboration especially—must be founded on a superior political understanding."

Revision Of War Treaty

The Italians also have uppermost in their minds a revision of the second world war peace treaty.

They feel that it punishes Italy unduly and desire to win France as a "friend at court" in the matter of revision.

Pleven has demonstrated during his tenure of office in Paris as well as on his recent visit to Washington that he is a man of realism and practicality.

He remembers well, of course, the fatal day on which Benito Mussolini invaded his country and, as the late President Roosevelt put it, stabbed France in the back.

But he also has France's immediate economic, financial and defense problem close to his heart and it is quite logical that he will attempt to reach a working agreement with Italy that will be mutually beneficial.

The conference at Santa Margherita Liguire on the Italian Riviera may be a device that, if not dislodged by sudden war, may trace the framework and set the pattern for a new era in continental European collaboration.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

THE ONE-ROOM SCHOOL-HOUSE

Of all school buildings throughout the United States, four out of 10 are one-room buildings. Forty years ago the ration was eight out of 10. In most of these one-room buildings there is one teacher for all the six grades.

On the average, the teacher of these one-room schools is less well trained than the average teacher. With so many different grades she can't devote as much time to each child as he deserves nor can the children here have as much special stimulation in art, music and the like as children in so-called graded schools. But if the teacher only realized her opportunities she could more easily set each child to do what he is able to do than if she were teaching in a single grade. She also could have the children of a higher grade read to and help the children a few grades lower. A few wise teachers do this very thing with great effect.

Watching and Listening

Then some children in this one-room school learn very much by watching and listening to what the children of the higher or lower grades, especially of the higher grades, do. Some other children are distracted in this way and neglect their own regular lessons. Now, any person who concentrates will despite many distractions tend to grow in concentration habits and profit from the experience. But so many children don't, alas, and grow more scatterbrained. In any one-room school there must be some of these unfortunate children. They are not at all dull. They may excel in mentality indeed. But unless they learn better habits of concentration they will lag in school success.

Of an only child, a daughter nine years old in the fourth grade, who in her first three grades had won high marks at school, the mother writes:

One-Room School

"She goes to a one-room school including the first six grades. When she comes home at night she can tell what any student in any other grade has done that day or what grade they got in a certain study, but doesn't seem to be enthused in anything that happened to her. The teacher tells me she does nothing only sit around and pay attention to everyone else's business but her own.

"At home she has no interest in anything except play. I will try to get her interested in helping me with little chores about the house or help her get her lessons, but she shows no interest. She pouts all the time I am trying to help her get lessons of an evening, she would rather be off playing dolls.

"She seems in good health and weighs correctly for her height.

"This child is not undernourished. She is an only child. We have always been good to her. Here at home nothing is ever said that she doesn't hear it and know all about it, if she is in hearing distance."

Regular Play Period

In substance, here is how I answered this mother by letter. Assign her one or two regular jobs at home which she must do promptly. Work out with her a regular period when she can play. Since she listens so eagerly to what is said at home and at school, she should greatly enjoy having you or dad read some to her each evening from books she will enjoy. Her teacher might let her borrow a book or two used by children in some of the lower grades, from which she might wish to read to you.

Your main problem is to avoid feeling angry at her over her lessons and to help her enjoy success at books. Then she will be more attentive and not think of her lessons as drudgery. My bulletins "The Child Who Does Not Concentrate" and "Parents and the Child's Homework" and my homehelps on reading, spelling and arithmetic may be had in two envelopes stamped with three cents each and sent to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Having completed a survey of speeches made around the nation Monday, I can report that Lincoln is leading on both tickets and could be elected unopposed.

That is until February 22 when Washington will come up fast . . . but his foreign policy may lose him the Democratic vote.

Washington's views on foreign entanglements mark him as a conservative in a hot-rod, soup-up-the-motor and loosen-the-brakes age.

But, if he can work up something like "increased benefits for the laboring man, a greater share of our prosperity for the farmer and a smaller return for the selfish vested interests", he will have all it takes.

And a word about "the dangers we face" and how he is the only man who knows what to do about it will make it sure.

Lincoln had only domestic issues to work with . . . he wouldn't know how to fight a foreign war which isn't a war because Harry says it isn't.

State Police Say:

No vehicle shall be driven over an unprotected fire hose, when same is laid down on any highway to be used at any fire or alarm of fire, without the consent of the fire department or police officer in command.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

This is the day when our hearts beat a wee bit faster . . . and the day when all the stores hope they haven't a heart left on the shelves . . . and it's also the day when "if you didn't send your sweetheart a little rememberance" you better find another place to eat your meals . . . Valentine Day holds good cheer . . . and we say, "I know something good about you".

Wouldn't this old world be better
If the folks we meet would say:
"I know something good about you!"
And then treat us just that way?

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy,
If each handclasp warm and true
Carried with it this assurance:
"I know something nice about you?"

Wouldn't life be lots more happy,
If the Good that's in us all
Were the only thing about us
That folks bothered to recall?

Wouldn't we all try the harder
Just to make the Goodness grow,
If the other folks remembered
Every little good we show?

Wouldn't the goodness be more catching,
If we kept the thought in view
When we're meeting, greeting others
"I know something good of you!"

Wouldn't men be truly Brothers
If we praised the Good we see?
For there's such a lot of Goodness
In the worst of you and me.

Wouldn't it be nice to practice
That fine way of thinking, too:
YOU KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT ME
I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD OF YOU!

'MOTHER' RUSSIA VERSUS MOTHER GOOSE

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Conditions Facing Truman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The visitor to Washington in this cold and snowy weather can stand on the sidewalk in front of the old state, war and navy building and look across the street at Blair House in which President Truman and his family are living. The visitor will observe a number of policemen and White House guards on duty behind the steel cables stretched between steel posts to keep the opposite sidewalk free of all passersby.

A block away the White House is being reconstructed. Having left merely the outer shell of the building, an army of workers is now putting in steel re-enforcements preparatory to restoring the interiors. The scene is dominated by scaffolding, the movement of trucks in and out, piles of material stacked on the White House lawn.

Symbolic of Position

In some respects this outward scene is symbolic of the position in which the president finds himself as he approaches the end of his sixth year in what is surely the most burdensome office in the world. He is beleaguered. More than ever before in a career that has seen a lot of storm and strife, he is on the defensive.

Some associates who observe him from week to week note a change in him. Mr. Truman has an optimistic, even a buoyant, temperament that permits few doubts of himself or his capacity to override any obstacle. But in recent months this same buoyancy has not always carried him through. He has been noticeably weighed down by problems and issues that at times seem beyond the reach of solution by anyone but a superman.

June 25 Dividing Line

The date of June 25 last, when the Korean attack began, is a kind of dividing line. Before that date things were at least outwardly normal and they could be coped with. Since the start of the conflict in Korea, which is neither wholly war nor wholly peace, things have been decidedly abnormal.

November 1 last is in a lesser degree another dividing line, a kind of landmark, in the president's terms in the White House. On that date fanatical Puerto Rican nationalists fired on Blair House in an attempt to assassinate the president. While the attempt was failed, it could easily have resulted in harm to the president or one of his family.

Threatening Mail

Even before this episode there had been an increase of threatening and abusive mail sent to the president. That invariably happens in times of tension. W. E. Baughman, Jr., chief of the U. S. secret service, testified before a house appropriations committee that in the fiscal year 1949 about 1900 such "crank" letters were received. The number for fiscal '50 was 2600, and the rate is now slightly on the increase.

After the assassination attempt, secret service guards and policemen were added. To the terrible pressure of the office itself in time of crisis was added the consciousness, so alien to one of Mr. Truman's temperament with his genuine liking for all sorts of people, that he must submit to many extra precautions for his safety because there was an increase in the number who wished him ill.

Underscores Traits

This added tension may have contributed to the defensiveness with which the president increasingly reacts. It seems to underscore one of his fundamental traits—unwavering loyalty to those who give him personal loyalty. That was conspicuous once again in his reaction to the critical report on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation prepared by a senate subcommittee headed by Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas. Fulbright's story is that he tried several times to present the picture to the president so that corrective steps could be taken without a public airing of conditions Fulbright believed to be wrong.

In connection with the "sick" strike of railway trainmen there has been criticism of John R. Steelman, assistant to the president. Union leaders say that Steelman tried to have a provision written into the wage agreement that would have made him arbitrator over the operation of the contract for the next three years—a year beyond the date that Mr. Truman's term of office expires. The president referred harshly to

FLATTERY

It's merry music to the ears.
It's fragrant perfume to the nose.
A cup of stimulant that cheers,
But one that habit-forming grows.
A little soothes the troubled mind
And heartens all for roadways rough,
But who believes in it will find
That flattery is dangerous stuff.

It is a sweet reward for good,
For patient effort and for skill,
But one should take it is he would
A medicine when he is ill.
Who takes too much will start to swell
With deadly arrogance and pride.
For future tasks when man is well
No strength will flattery provide.

Some men have learned this truth too late
By letting flatterers deceive:
That no one ever is as great
As they have led them to believe.
Men drugged by flattery forget
That with tomorrow's rising sun
There still is danger to be met,
And always duty to be done.

They Say

WASHINGTON—President Truman: "We must counter the false promises of Communist imperialism with constructive action for human betterment."

NEW YORK—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey: "If the national administration really wants to defend America I suggest it quit politics as usual and get down to business."

LONDIN—Prime Minister Attlee: "We have got to find some way to enable the free and totalitarian worlds to live together."

NEW YORK—Selective Service Director Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey: "Adults who go around crying that the times are terrible impair the morale of youth. We would all rot if we had absolute certainty and security."

Bible Thought

The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way. Psalm 37.23.

Getting Out Of Korea

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—One great blunder of World War II was to let ourselves be captivated by the slogan of "unconditional surrender"—and, strange to say, the same captivity now threatens us in Korea.

For within the past several weeks we have won two signal victories over Red China. We have wrung from the United Nations an unwilling but satisfying indictment of aggression against Red China. That was a moral and diplomatic victory, and we can trade upon it. Meanwhile we have stabilized the MacArthur Line where we are currently inflicting 10 to 1 casualties on the enemy. This is a clear military victory, the only kind that our outnumbered forces can possibly win.

Shall we use these twin victories to launch an unconditional surrender drive? Or shall we negotiate for a reasonable settlement on the strength of our favorable position?

Not Academic Questions

These are not academic questions. Any day now Secretary Acheson may be forced to admit that there's no longer any sense in refusing to use the troops of Nationalist China now on Formosa. We do not need Chiang Kai Shek's help to stay in Korea. But we need his help if we are to make all-out war on Red China. Before we come to any decision, a debit-credit ledger on the Korean adventure might be in order.

1. Debit: We have suffered nearly 50,000 casualties and committed nearly $20 billion in this undeclared war. We have devastated the Korean peninsula and have lost the President's gamble that Red China would not intervene. We have also lost the political fellowship of India, the biggest non-Communist country in Asia. We have let slip our leadership over a substantial bloc of smaller Asian-Arabian nations, and we have barely held our diplomatic grip on Britain, France and other European countries who voted so unwillingly for the aggressor indictment.

2. Credit: Despite the early winter defeats and retreats, we still hold most of South Korea. There is no doubt that we can stay in Korea and bleed the enemy if we are willing to keep on losing American boys. We have demonstrated that we can crack the whip in the UN, although we may not be able to do it again. We have proved that aggression is very costly to the aggressor. We have subtracted fully half a million soldiers, and maybe that many civilians, from the Korean trouble spot. We have benefitted by the Korean experience to the extent that we have begun preparations for World War III.

Unfinished Business

3. Unfinished business: In this category we must place an item which cannot as yet be listed on the debit or the credit side. We have learned that "Asia for the Asiatics" is not merely a Communist motto. It is the motto of India and of the Far East-Middle East bloc which has been dragging its feet at Lake Success. It was the motto of Imperialist Japan and of scores of Asian uprisings against "foreign devils" down through the centuries. Nothing could be more stupid than a refusal to admit that this anti-Western feeling exists among our friends as well as among our foes.

Knowledge is power and we can use this knowledge—that nobody loves us in Asia—to good effect. It should stand high on our list of reasons for considering what to do about the Korean War. For here is proof that the human race is not One World but Many Worlds. Why should that surprise us in America? Do we like foreigners? Don't we have immigration laws and a Monroe Doctrine? Internationalism is not a good reason for a fight to the finish in Asia, for the Asians do not want internationalism. They want regionalism, just as we do. That is a fundamental fact which our Korean adventure should have taught us.

Regionalism, not internationalism, is shaping up to be the way of the world. Even while we fight in Korea, our attention is drawn toward Europe and the regional pact known as the North Atlantic Alliance. If we pull out of Korea on the wings of a temporary moral-military victory, it will not be the forces of Red China which have driven us out. It will be the spirit of regionalism, expressed by India and her followers, which has proved what a useless war we are fighting there.

Anything less than unconditional conquest of all Korea would be a come-down from the high horse we were riding last September. But we have learned a good deal about Asia and Asiatics since then. It is regionalism which we should encourage there, just as we should cultivate it on our own side of the earth. Internationalism is not for anybody except the Communists.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Thousands of articles and hundreds of books have been written on the subject SUCCESS.

How to be successful, the reasons for success achieved, the qualifications for success—all these and many more have been analyzed, studied, formulated.

So, by this time, everybody ought to know how to be a SUCCESS.

Why then, are there still so very many more failures than successes in the world?

Is it, perhaps, because there are no books on failure? Is it because failure is simply "doing what comes naturally?"

I have long been curious about this, so I made a research of my own.

I interviewed hundreds of failures. I asked them why they think success has passed them by.

And, unlike the scientists who report their findings in lengthy treatises with charts and graphs and great big words, I can give you the result of my study in ONE word:

MISPLACEMENT.

Yes, I have come to the definite conclusion that the great majority could have avoided failure if they had been placed in the kind of job or business for which they were and are qualified.

There are many, of course, who could never have been anything but failures, no matter how they might have been placed.

The lazy, the dishonest, the stupid, could never be anything but failures.

But, with my Pollyannaish outlook on life, I am sure that the lazy, the dishonest, the stupid, are in vast minority.

I firmly believe that the great majority of people are willing to work, honest, and reasonably intelligent.

And there are thousands of examples which prove that with those qualifications anybody has an opportunity for reasonable success.

Now let me give you an example of a typical case of failure.

The fellow is six feet two, weighs 220 pounds, and is a perfect example of muscular humanity.

He loves all kinds of sports and is a 100-per-cent extrovert.

But, by force of circumstances, he had to take a job—any job to help support the family.

So he went to work in an office and was put at clerical work. He hated every minute of that job.

An uncle of his was the head of the concern. This uncle tried his nephew in many phases of the firm's clerical activities. He gave him every chance in the world. But the fellow was an athlete, an extrovert, not a bookkeeper or office worker.

He was promoted, then demoted. Finally he was shoved into an obscure corner. If he weren't the boss' nephew, he would long ago have been fired.

But in his home town he is a LEADER. He is active in the Boy Scouts, the Y.M.C.A., the community affairs.

A couple of weeks ago he was made the Chief of the town's Civil Defense Police, with the title of Colonel.

He is respected and looked up to by his fellow citizens and doing a splendid job in organizing and training his force.

His Civil Defense job pays him nothing. His clerical job, on which he and his family live, pays him very little.

In business he is an utter failure. But where he fits, where he is properly placed, he is an outstanding success.

I wonder what this man could have done in a paying job for which he is qualified!

Claim Small Business Is Being Helped

By WILLIAM KERWIN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—The National Production Authority disclosed today that it is helping small businessmen to obtain scarce materials, loans and defense contracts.

NPA Director Manly Fleischmann reported that "our field offices inform us that 87 per cent of all cases handled concern small business and that of these, 95 per cent have been brought to a satisfactory conclusion."

Production officials said they are aiding big and little business through 5,600 offices across the country operated by federal agencies and private trade and business associations for the purpose of spreading information.

Fleischmann declared:

"I firmly believe that we have the obligation to inform the country of our programs and to assist business in meeting their problems."

Daily Aiding Business

To meet the situation, NPA, through 85 of its own field offices is daily aiding business by supply advice on production controls, obtaining relief from the orders and performing other related jobs.

Recently, a Texas businessman complained to NPA that federal controls would put him out of business because he would be unable to fill $365,000 worth of vending machine orders.

NPA officials at the regional office at Dallas immediately advised the man to study the regularly issued military buying lists. As a result, he obtained a $13,000 air force contract for lockers and is "bidding now on many other items."

In another case, a small California instrument maker obtained a $20,000 contract with a two-month deadline on delivery. He needed financial aid but there was no time to arrange a government loan.

NPA officials in Los Angeles got in touch with a local banking company and a working capital loan was approved within a week's time.

A contractor working on a defense housing project in Kansas was running into trouble in obtaining automatic washing machine parts since they are not subject to priority ratings.

Through a member of NPA's appliance advisory committee, the agency was able to obtain the needed parts quickly and directly from the manufacturer.

Ne-Ca-Hi Y-Teen Party Tonight

Members of the Ne-Ca-Hi Y-Teen and Hi-Y clubs will be entertained at a Valentine party this evening at the Y.W.C.A. A business meeting for both clubs will be at 7:30 until 8:30 o'clock, followed by dancing until 11 p.m. Jack Shepp and musicians will furnish dance music and refreshments will be served.

Adult hostesses for the evening will be mothers of Y-Teens who serve on the Ne-Ca-Hi Y-Teen Cabinet. Mrs. Robert Prentice, 410 East Sheridan avenue, and Mrs. A. C. Rigby, 439 Court street, will be present in this capacity.

Miss Virginia Weinschenk, teacher at the Senior High School, will also serve as an adult hostess for the evening. The joint activity will be under the direction of Sherry Pionka, president of the Ne-Ca-Hi Y-Teen club, and David Lewis, president of the Ne-Ca-Hi Hi-Y club. Gretchen Mackey heads the committee for refreshments for the party.

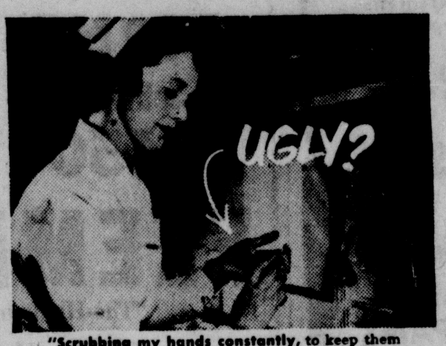

WORM MARKET

BELFAST—A "black market" transaction in ringworm was responsible for an epidemic of this skin disease among the school children at Newtonards, County Down. Investigating the rapid spread of the disease, medical authorities discovered that early victims had sold ringworm to other children who wanted to stay away from school.

Dental Decay Is Discussed

Measures To Be Taken To Prevent Tooth Decay Given

A panel of six prominent dental authorities has asked the cooperation of the general public in combating one of the most common of all health problems — dental decay.

Scientists participating in the University of Illinois College of Dentistry's postgraduate extension program this week pointed out that adequate measures for the prevention and control of dental decay now are available. Unfortunately, however, no easy way has been developed, and it is only through rigid self-discipline on the part of the patient that the incidence of decay can be reduced.

These thoughts and recommendations were expressed during a two-hour discussion on the subject, "Preventive Dentistry", which was transmitted from Chicago by telephone by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Lawrence County Dental Society and 257 other dental societies in the United States and Canada heard the broadcast.

Participants were Drs. Allan G. Brodie, Robert G. Kesel, and Maury Massler of the University of Illinois, Dr. Philip E. Blackerby, Jr., of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, and Dr. Kenneth A. Easlick of the University of Michigan.

There are three methods that have proved effective in reducing the incidence of dental decay. The most effective is the moderation or restriction of sugar consumption at meal time and the elimination of eating sugar-containing substances between meals.

Other Methods

Other acceptable methods are brushing the teeth diligently immediately after eating and the topical application of a two per cent sodium fluoride solution to the clean dried tooth surface by the dentist.

Unfortunately, these accepted methods are either time-consuming or unpalatable. They either require the individual to deny himself something that he greatly enjoys, such as sugar, or ask him to perform consistently and conscientiously a time-consuming operation, such as tooth brushing or topical applications.

At the present time, dental science is continuing its search for something that can be introduced into routine living that will not require thought, action, or denial. One of the most promising is the fluoridation of drinking water as a mass control method by cities and communities. Preliminary evidence has indicated that artificial fluoridation of drinking water is as effective in reducing decay as is national fluoridation, which has achieved between 40 and 50 percent reduction in many communities.

Other promising leads are the so-called tooth impregnation method which involves zinc chloride or silver nitrate, and the use of the new ammoniated, penicillin, and chlorophyll tooth pastes and tooth powders. These methods, however, either have not been tested over a long enough time in controlled studies on sufficient numbers of people to establish their validity, or the possibility of their hazardous effects has not been eliminated.

the strikers as being like a bunch of Russians.

Not To Be Candidate?

This, with similar incidents such as Mr. Truman's angry letter to music critic Paul Hume of the Washington Post, naturally stirs speculation about the president's future. There are close observers who believe that he has now put out of mind any thought of running for a second full term and that he is in fact even eager to lay down the burdens of an office that increasingly seems to deserve the description: "Impossible."

At this point it would be highly improbable that any firm decision has been reached. But no man in Mr. Truman's position could help speculating on how it might feel to take off the harness and live a private life again. Just now the speculation is on whether or not Mr. Truman will be able to take a kind of working vacation in March in Key West, Fla., where he is able temporarily to get away from some of the more irritating aspects of the job. But such a brief respite could be expected merely to whet the appetite for a greater freedom.

Wealthy Clubman Reported Suicide At San Marino, Calif.

SAN MARINO, Calif., Feb. 14.—(INS)—Police reported that Lester G. Patee, 65, wealthy clubman, shot and killed himself Tuesday in his fashionable San Marino home.

Patee was an uncle by marriage of the late Tommy Lee, heir to a radio network and automobile fortune and himself a suicide 13 months ago.

Police said that a delay of nearly two hours in reporting Patee's death resulted in an order for a coroner's investigation.

Patee was the husband of Mrs. Nora S. Patee, maternal aunt of Tommy Lee. She was the latter's personal guardian under a court order issued not long after he inherited $10,000,000 from the estate of his father, the late Don Lee.

P.H.C. Group Will Install Officers

Members of the Protected Home Circle will gather in the I.O.O.F. hall on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, with the regular business meeting to be conducted.

An installation of new officers will highlight the evening's program, with Vernon Stevens of Greenville, Pa., to be installing officer. T. V. Radford will be supreme guide and Mrs. Vernon Stevens will be supreme companion.

Lunch will be served to the group following the meeting.

Salary Boosts For Judges In State Being Considered

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Legislation proposing $4000-a-year salary boosts for Pennsylvania's judges today is before the senate judiciary general committee.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. John R. Meade (R) Phila., also would boost the annual minimum salaries of associate judges in rural areas from $480 to $1200.

The annual cost would be $1,460,000 for the 365 jurists in Pennsylvania.

If approved by the General Assembly it will be the second pay raise for members of the judiciary in four years.

The new annual salaries proposed in the maesure are: chief justice of the supreme court, $27,000, and associate justices, $27,000 each; president judge of the superior court, $25,000, and $25,000 for each of the associate judges; common pleas judges in Allegheny and Philadelphia counties, $20,500; Dauphin county C. P. and orphans' court jurists, $22,000 each; president judge of the Philadelphia municipal and the Allegheny county courts, $16,500 with $16,000 for associates.

Other common pleas judges' salaries proposed are: judicial districts having populations between a quarter million and one million, $18,000; between 100,000 and a quarter million, $18,000; between 65,000 and 100,000, $16,000; less than 60,000, $15,000.

Mileage and compensation for extra duties would not be changed.

Recent Atomic Explosions Were Most Terrifying

DAYTON, O., Feb. 14.—(INS)—Commerce Secretary Sawyer said in Dayton last night the recent explosions in Nevada were "terrifying in their demonstration" and "likely to worry any aggressor . . . who launches an all-out attack upon us."

Sawyer told the Dayton Chambre of Commerce the U. S. will use all its atomic weapons if we are attacked.

He pointed to the recent split in the ranks of Italian communists as a sign that "further cracks" in the structure of international communism are possible and may "give pause to any aggressive plan of the politburo."

Folks Of Fame

Monte Banks is a motion picture action and director, and was born in Cesena, Italy, in 1897. He began his career as an eccentric stage dancer, where he conceived the idea of becoming a screen actor. His first role was as a stunt man in a Fatty Arbuckle picture, which landed him in a hospital. Upon recovery he played in Mack Sennett comedies, then made Perfect Gentleman, Flying Luck, Church Mouse, This Woman Is Mine, We're Going to Be Rich, Shipyard Sally, Great Guns, and, more recently, A Bell for Adano. His wife is Gracie Fields, English stage and musical star.

Mrs. Frances Parkinson Keyes was born in Virginia, July 21, 1885, and educated in Boston, Mass. She is the author of The Old Gray Homestead, The Career of David Noble, Letters From a Senator's Wife, Queen Ann's Lace, Silver Seas and Golden Cities, Senator Marlowe's Daughter, The Great Tradition, Fielding's Folly, Also the Hills, The River Road, Came a Cavalier, Dinner at Antoine's and her latest is Joy Street. She is also an editor, contributor to magazines, lecturer and world traveler.

CUT TAX RATE

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Allegheny county commissioners lopped one mill from real estate taxes yesterday and said the 1951 financial outlook was "bright".

Property owners will pay a 97 mills combined county and county institution district tax during 1951.

Mother And Child Praise Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamin B1, B2, Niacin and Iron Which Their Systems Lacked

Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Route 2, Fayetteville, Ark., and her little daughter see to it each day that neither of them forgets to take their HADACOL. It's no wonder that they are so loud in their praise of HADACOL for HADACOL supplied Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which their systems lacked, and Mrs. Reynolds helped them to overcome those deficiency-caused ailments that had troubled them so. Mrs. Reynolds sees to it that they continue taking their HADACOL to help prevent those deficiency-caused ailments from coming back.

Here is what Mrs. Reynolds says:

"I am 29 years old and I had been weak and run-down for some time. I took one bottle of your HADACOL and I feel so much better. I have a better appetite and sleep much better. I also gave HADACOL to my little 8-year-old daughter. She had no appetite and was draggy and cranky. After taking a bottle of HADACOL, she eats better and plays so much better. We are continuing to take HADACOL."

Many doctors recommend HADACOL. Ask for it today and get that "Wonderful HADACOL Feeling."

Boy Scouts Are Lions' Guests

Members Of Troop 5 Stage Demonstration

Recognition was given to National Boy Scout Week by New Castle Lions club, when it was host to the new county scout executive, J. C. Hildebrand; and representative scouts from Boy Scout Troop 5, which is sponsored by the club, at the weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon.

Scoutmaster Russell Rohrer, and Scouts Don Johnson, Jim Crawford, and Bill and Lester Hauschild, represented the troop. Scoutmaster Rohrer told of some of the achievements of the troop, and thanked the Lions for their interest in scouting. He stated that Troop 5 was one which the club had nothing to be ashamed of, and boasts having three of the county's six eagle scouts in its membership.

Scouts Express Thanks

Don Johnson, one of the two boys from the troop who attended the International Jamboree, thanked the club for having made it possible for him to attend. Jim Crawford, the other scout who attended the Jamboree also thanked the club, and reviewed some of the outstanding accomplishments of the troop down through the years.

The troop during the past year placed first in the First Aid contest. The four boys from the troop put on a demonstration of first aid practices.

J. C. Hildebrand, the county scout executive was then called upon, and told the club that the Boy Scouts in America now number, 2,720,000 and will soon be in the third million. An organization that size, he pointed out merits the interest of all citizens.

He stated that Troop 5 was the only troop in the county which earned two blue ribbons for outstanding achievement, and presented Scoutmaster Rohrer with these honors in behalf of the troop. Mr. Rohrer expressed his thanks, and stated that the boys themselves were the ones who deserved the recognition brought to the troop, as it was they who had planned and carried out the projects.

One new member was admitted to the club, Tuesday. He is Harry Mack, Jr., local gasoline station proprietor.

SOCIETY & Clubs

ALBINA AUXILIARY 21ST ANNIVERSARY

Ladies Auxiliary of the Albina club celebrated its twenty-first anniversary, with a dinner being served in the social rooms of the Albina club to husbands and friends of the members, February 11.

A large cake centered the nicely arranged table. A gift was presented to Mrs. J. Hartan, the past president by Mrs. A. Suicu, the new president.

On Monday the women held a valentine party for the pleasure of their children. Each child seated at the colorfully arranged tables was presented with a favor. Lunch was served by candlelight. Later games were played by the children.

DEGREE STAFF HAS PATRIOTIC MEETING

Degree staff of Emeline Rose Rebekah Lodge 37 enjoyed their monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Maude Forrester, East Washington street, with a patriotic theme predominating.

After a short business meeting, games were a favored pastime, with prizes being won by Mrs. Gladys Mayers and Mrs. Pearl McNees.

Salute to the flag was given and lunch was served later, the menu being carried out in a patriotic theme. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Dorothy Stevens and Miss Vera Rigby.

C. U. T. E. Club Gathers

Mrs. Richard Hietsch of Orlando avenue entertained members of the C. U. T. E. club on Tuesday evening.

Two tables of bridge provided the pastime, with prizes going to Mrs. Ted Bergquist and Mrs. Lee Messner.

A delicious lunch was served buffet style, with an attractive arrangement of red and white carnations centering the table. Red tapers and valentine favors were additional features of the decorations.

The next meeting will be held February 28 at the home of Mrs. Ted Bergquist, New Wilmington road.

CURRENT EVENTS '06 MEMBERS GATHER

The Current Events Circle '06 was entertained by Mrs. John Dockman, 104 North Jefferson street on Monday afternoon, February 12, with thirteen members present.

Current events were discussed and interesting talks on Lincoln were presented by Mrs. Clyde Sanders and Mrs. C. L. Brenneman.

Mrs. Alice McKillop, a former member, was welcomed back by the group. Mrs. Karl Gardner was a special guest.

The next meeting will be March 5 at the Y.W.C.A. with Mrs. Fred Bell as hostess. Roll call will be "Irish wit."

Seven Bees Meet

Members of the Seven Bees club met at the home of Mrs. Helen Call, 735 Pearl street, recently.

Canasta was the pleasant diversion of the evening with high score awards going to Miss Marie Pendice and Mrs. Ann Mumford, the latter being initiated into the club as a new member. Dinner was served with valentine appointments predominating. Clara Ferrazzano assisted the hostess in serving.

A tureen dinner was planned for February 23, to be held at the home of Mrs. Gerard Chiurazzi.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chiurazzi, 403 Park avenue, on February 23.

ELIZABETH McAFEE ENGAGED TO MARRY

Mr. and Mrs. James H. McAfee announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to David Mansfield Reddig, son of Colonel and Mrs. Clarence Reddig of Carlisle, Pa.

Miss McAfee is the granddaughter of Howard M. Kirk of 403 Moody avenue and the late Mrs. Elizabeth Raney Kirk.

A June wedding is being planned by the couple.

GRANGE NEWS

New Bedford Grange

Members of New Bedford Grange No. 1929 and their families enjoyed a covered dish dinner at the grange hall Tuesday at 6:30 p. m.

The following program was presented:

Group singing, led by Mrs. Margaret Ratavasky and Irwin Ropp.

Talk, "How Our Grange Came To Be"—Earl McClusky.

Trumpet solo — Mrs. Claude Clingan.

Trombone solo—Claude Clingan.

Roll call—How can we increase our grange membership? How can our grange best serve our community?

Trumpet and trombone duet—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Clingan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinger were accompanied by Mrs. Clingan's mother, Mrs. Howard Jones of Scienceville, O.

The next meeting, February 20, two Red Cross instructors will give some first aid instructions.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Mann of Rhodes Place, have received word of the birth of a daughter January 31 to their daughter and son-in-law, Marine Corporal and Mrs. E. Wayne Franks in the Family hospital, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. The baby has been named Candace Anne.

Frank W. Kennedy, who resides at 370 Neshannock avenue, is able to have visitors at the Jameson Memorial hospital after a recent major operation.

Mrs. John Bevan, State street, school police, left for New Kensington to attend the funeral of her uncle, Thomas Turner.

Replacements for Canadian infantry units in Korea arrived in the Far East command Jan. 5 and began training for combat duty in Korea.

William C. Loyd, Prominent Steel Executive, Dies

Word has been received here of the death of William C. Loyd, former resident of this community and sister of Mrs. Davis Heitzman of this city at the home of his daughter in Geneva, Ill. Mr. Loyd who was 81 at the time of his death was born east of the city.

He began his steel career with the American Tin Plate Co., and held various positions in the company's New Kensington Humbert works and in 1905 was made general superintendent of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co. works in Morgantown, W. Va. In 1915 he went to Gary, Indiana where he helped build the American Sheet and Tin Plate works there and became general superintendent of the plant the following year. He held various positions until his retirement with U. S. Steel in 1931.

Mr. Loyd was an enthusiastic sportsman, being a great fan, both of baseball and football, umpiring baseball at West Virginia University as a pastime. Many of his friends knew him as "Colonel" which originated when he served as a member of the governor's staff, during the time of his residence in West Virginia.

A lifetime member of the Masonic order in the Los Angeles Consistory, Mr. Loyd is survived by his sister, here; a son, William, at Cottonwood, Calif.; and two daughters, Mrs. J. R. Ashby, Geneva, Ill., Mrs. George Rumsel, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada; and six grandchildren. Services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Geneva, Ill., with interment in Forest Lawn cemetery, Hollywood, Calif.

Six Hundred March On Albany Capitol

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 14.—(INS)—Six hundred New York City residents, led by former Rep. Vito Marcantonio, state chairman of the American Labor party, "marched" on the capitol Tuesday to demand a rent "freeze", a ban on evictions and other legislative concessions.

The delegation conducted a brief meeting on the capitol steps, where Marcantonio protested for the "masses". They then swarmed into the capitol, jamming corridors and making it difficult for legislators to move about.

Adding to the general confusion was the arrival of several hundred persons for a public hearing on Governor Dewey's $939,000,000 budget and tax program.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

HIDDEN FAT

Auntie Emma looks fine. She has a good complexion and bright eyes and is pretty.

She is a good cook and likes to have eating parties.

She knows that she is too fat but she has trouble keeping her weight down.

She knows about protein and carbohydrate and fat.

She eats bread and potatoes because they don't make her fat. She forgets about the butter that she puts on them.

She eats plenty of lettuce and cabbage and salads of all kinds so as to get a good supply of vitamins. She forgets about the mayonnaise and other kinds of axle grease that she puts on them.

These fats play hide and seek with her. Potato chips and french fries and dolled up peanuts and donuts and all sorts of goodies play a game with Auntie Emma.

Arrest Of Youth Is Made After Complaints

Raymond H. Langford, age 22, of Miller avenue, R. D. 2, was arrested about 3 a.m. today in South Shenango street by police in two cruiser cars containing Lieutenant Thompson and Policemen Llewellyn, Russo and Richards. He was charged with public indeceny.

His arrest followed complaints.

BUSINESS AT RECORD

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Large retail sales boosted business to record levels in the Pittsburgh district during January.

The bureau of business research at the University of Pittsburgh reported its index of business soared to 203.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average, which was the first time this index has passed the 200 per cent mark.

Highest previous record occurred last August when the index reached 196.3.

Three States To Have Conference On Civil Defense

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 14—(INS)—Civil defense plans of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware will be further strengthened on Friday when the governors of the states and their respective military and civil defense directors meet in Trenton.

The unusual conference to affect a tri-state mutual military aid and assistance pact, has been called by Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey. Governors John S. Fine, of Pennsylvania; and Albert N. Carvel, of Delaware, will attend the discussion scheduled for 11 a.m.

As New Jersey has already signed a similar pact with New York, that state will not be represented.

The pact signed between New Jersey and New York pledges that in case of emergency, the military personnel of either state shall aid the state under attack. The pact permits the pursuit of insurrectionists, saboteurs or enemy forces.

Under terms of the assistance pact the full resources of either state are available to that state engaged in meeting an emergency situation.

As Pennsylvania and Delaware fail within the sphere of important military objectives, Governor Driscoll proposed that common interest called for "unification and coordination of resources, manpower, military personnel and all other forms of civic assets so vitally needed in a critical time."

Governor Fine will be accompanied by Major General Richard K. Mellon, director of civil defense and his staff.

PHYSICIAN MISSING

BRADFORD, Pa., Feb. 14.—(INS)—State police joined Bradford police yesterday in a search for a 48-year-old physician who has been missing since last Monday.

Relatives said Dr. Luke D. Garvin suffers from heart attacks.

He left his Bradford office Monday to attend an Elks club luncheon.

HOT WATER IS HANDY ITEM AT DAIRY FARM

No one likes to be in "hot water" but hot water on top is always welcome, particularly in the dairy enterprise. In many areas electric power companies allow an off-peak low rate on hot water heating. Such rates mean an economical way of getting hot water.

Water must be under pressure. For most dairy farms 50 gallons of hot water will be needed for managed milking, washing and sanitizing dairy utensils, breeding, maternity and medical needs, testing and many miscellaneous uses. In winter water systems under pressure will need frost protection.

Hot water under pressure will save time and labor, and be a decided convenience.

APPLES FOR GOOD EATING

Apples are one of the most versatile of all fruits as far as meal uses are concerned. Apples combine well with other fruits to serve in fruit cups, whether as an appetizer or as a dessert.

Apples may be used in numerous combinations with other foods in salads. Or they may be fried or made into sauce to go with pork or minted to go with lamb.

A leaflet prepared by the Agricultural Extension Service, State College, Pa., entitled 'Apple Time' is available upon request from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle. This leaflet contains information on the use of apples.

LAUNDER NYLONS WITH GREAT CARE

Fabrics of all nylon are washable although the dyes, finishes and trims may not be. Some manufacturers label their fabrics as to whether they may be washed or if they must be dry cleaned. It is important that you read these instructions. Launder washable garments frequently, using a mild soap and lukewarm water. Squeeze suds through the fabric, rubbing gently in spots where necessary. Certain nylon garments and those with delicate trimming and construction are best washed by hand. Wash in the machine only those nylon garments that will not fray or pull at the seams.

White nylon picks up coloring readily so always wash it separately from colored nylon.

Strong bleaches will weaken nylon just as they will other fibers. Use a bleach carefully and only when stains or discolorations cannot be removed by proper washing or cleaning. Follow directions for using bleach on cotton if none are given for nylon.

Rinse nylon garments thoroughly in warm water, squeeze out excess moisture, then smooth out seams or hems and hang to dry out of direct sunlight. Garments may be hung up dripping wet.

Generally nylon garments need little or no ironing. When pressing is necessary, use a moderately hot iron. Fabric may be damp or dry. If there is no nylon control on your iron, set the control for rayon. A higher temperature may damage nylon and repeated high temperature causes it to turn yellow.

Communist Shore Batteries At Hong Kong Shell Small Tanker

HONG KONG, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Communist shore batteries on the Lintin islands in the Pearl river estuary off Canton on Tuesday shelled the small Texas Oil company tanker Caltex II, wounding the British captain and mate and damaging the ship's stern.

The vessel had put out for Bangkok on Sunday but was returning to Hong Kong because of engine trouble when attacked. Her engineer put on speed and the ship reached Hong Kong safely.

It was the first attack of the year on any foreign vessel by guns emplaced on the communist-held group of islands.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

'Little Lord Fauntleroy.'

Jimmy Brown's parents were particular about his appearance. They saw no reason why, just because the other children wore blue jeans and lumber jackets, their son shouldn't have neat suits, a necktie and gloves.

Jimmy was a good kid. He wanted to be one of the gang. He liked to play ball and do all the other things that nine and 10-year-old boys enjoy. But they would have none of him. Both boys and girls called him a sissy, "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and other such names.

Fortunately, Jimmy's teacher was a very tactful person. In a few weeks, she was able to help the Brown's see how important it was for Jimmy to be like the other youngsters. His happiness was almost unbounded when he was allowed to get not only blue jeans and a wool shirt but a "jewel"-studded belt just like cowboys wear.

There may be all sorts of "good" reasons why we grownups want our children to look and act in certain ways. But, usually, these reasons of ours are not nearly as important as in the need for a child to be one of the gang. If what we expect from him sets him off too much from the rest of the kids, we'd better think a second time before we insist on our way.

Discuss Report Birmingham Is Divorce Mecca

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 14.—(INS)—Reports that Birmingham is becoming a mecca for easterners seeking "quickie" divorces drew the attention of a group of judges who called a meeting to discuss the situation.

Court officials charged the "divorce mill" results from Alabama's divorce law which was weakened by the state legislature in 1941. Before 1941, legal residence for divorce was one year, but the legislature changed that to read that one of the principals must be "a bonafide resident of the state".

Legal experts said that a "bona fide resident" is not defined, and no proof is required of intent to remain in Alabama.

Court records show that the 2,000 divorces granted in Birmingham last year did not exceed the average since 1941, but indications are that an increasing number has been filed by out-of-state persons listing downtown hotels as "bona fide" residences.

Court officials charge that since there is no waiting period between filing of the original bill and the granting of the final decree, many are able to get divorces within one day.

P.T.A. Meeting Honors Fathers

Play Presented At Meeting On Tuesday

Fathers were guests of honor at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Mahoningtown P.T.A. when they assembled in the school for Fathers' day. The meeting was opened by reading of the P.T.A. prayer by Russell Horchler. Mrs. Howard Culbertson and Mrs. Louis Ezzo read reports of the previous meeting while Mrs. Ethel Pitzer gave the teacher roll call.

Mrs. Ethel Patterson's class won the award for the fourth time. Mr. Horchler took pictures of the fathers as it was their night. Special committee announced was, Mrs. Thomas Holliday, Mrs. James Kennedy and Mrs. Thomas Leichty. Ways and Means committee announced through the chairman, Mrs. Tony Adamo, that an Easter egg project was to be started to procure funds and the following would serve as members of that committee: Mrs. Joseph Zumpella, Mrs. T. Edward Rainey, Mrs. Harry Freeman, Mrs. Hubert White.

Fred McLure, school principal, announced that the trophy won by the P.T.A. in the Armistice parade was on display. Mrs. Joseph Zumpella gave the founders day message and that a gift would be made to headquarters. The door prize was given to Charles Capazo, as only fathers were eligible to obtain it.

Mrs. T. Edward Rainey was in charge of the presentation of the play, "Deep Are The Roots," when 19th century and 20th century teachers were compared. Participating, were: Mrs. Harry Freeman, Mrs. Hubert White, Mrs. Nick Rotuno, Mrs. Shaffer, Mrs. Charles Capazo, Russell Horchler with the narrator being Mrs. Kennedy. The fathers participated in a round-table discussion moderated by Fred McLure.

Mrs. Loyal Parady and her committee were hostesses, with Miss Jean Weber as the teacher hostess. Other members of the parent committee included: Mrs. M. Lynn, Mrs. William Monk, Mrs. Harry Rhinehart, Mrs. Joseph Matteo, Mrs. D. Sarbo, Mrs. Steve Sherbak, Mrs. Sam Rainey, Mrs. Anthony Ginocci, Mrs. Julian Kaczmarczyk, Mrs. Mike Malizia, Mrs. Anthony Pecararo, Mrs. Philip Farone, Mrs. Charles Perrotta, Mrs. Anna Mairano, Mrs. Sylvester Domenick.

Ward Civic Club Members Gather

The minutes of the previous meeting February 6 were read by E. N. Ubry, secretary. Principal Fred McLure presided.

It was decided that Alfred Hyde would give his report on the Christmas lighting, on February 20. Manning Weller reported regarding the current price for waste paper and magazines. A motion was passed that the club would sponsor a waste paper and magazine drive about the middle of April, and that Manning Weller will try and secure a box car on siding to receive paper each Saturday in the meantime. Mr. Hyde will give his financial report February 20 meeting. A motion was passed that Arthur J. Rees, of New Castle News should be honorary member of this civic club.

The matter of Fun Night at Mahoning School was discussed, and tentative plans for the future were made, and the club requests the Fun Night council president, Virginia Domenick, to contract the ward reporter on Wednesday, regarding the Friday evening program.

Girl Scout Troop Elects Officers

Members of Girl Scout Troop 61 met Tuesday after school in the Mahoning School, with Mrs. Charles Tuscano and Mrs. T. Edward Rainey as leaders.

Business was conducted by the president, Patricia Gorgacz, with the Juliette Lowe fund discussed. Since February is International Friendship month, the troop decided to meet with Troop 60 to work out the requirements for the second class badge.

New officers were elected as follows: president, Karen Thomas; vice-president, Patricia Gorgacz; secretary, Victoria Ginocchi; and treasurer, Kathleen Ritchie.

A valentine exchange and a treat from Patricia Gorgacz featured the program. The next meeting will be February 20 at the school.

Hansel And Gretel Given By Croton Pupils On Tuesday

A highly commendable presentation of "Hansel and Gretel" was witnessed by pupils and parents alike Tuesday afternoon at the Croton school, directed by Miss Temoy McFate, music directress, Miss Eleanor Gardner and Mrs. M. F. Brown.

Billy Snow ably enacted the role of "Hansel," while "Gretel" was portrayed well by Patty Bales. The grade school production was given amid realistic scenery provided by Mrs. Brown and art classes, while Miss McFate and her music pupils offered background music.

Between scenes, trumpet solos were played by Jimmy Patton, and clarinet solos by Reggie Bonfield. Announcer for the program was Bonita Dembroski. The presentation was in three acts.

Other characters in the operetta included:

Barbara McCracken, Terry Gibson, Gerald Zona, Sandra Konstal, Linda Orlando, Barbara Piccari, Marlene Ragnelli, Karen Emmett, Darlene Searfoss, Ethel Henle, Linda Brown, Elaine Pagley, Jacqueline Trott, Carol Welsh, Sally Miller, Julia Orlando, Josephine Lutton, Sally Nelson, Robert Kennedy, Bobby West, Larry Detore, Frank Cratty, Chester Hoover, Dorris Downs, Catherine Weeks, William Ridenbaugh, Betty Casciato, Patty Cimini, Loretta Hall, Carole Michael.; stage hands, Drennen Stickle, David Jones, Monty Dresspling, Henry Buyny, Tommy Mills; prompter, John Morgan; props used were loaned by Doris Downs, Barbara McCracken, Betty Casciato, Patty Bales, Sandra Konstal, Drennen Stickle.

Mrs. Ida Pease Dies In Ohio

Mrs. Claude C. Crill of 127 West Euclid avenue has received word of the death of her great aunt, Mrs. Ida M. Pease of Rock Creek, Ohio, a former resident of New Castle. Mrs. Pease, who would have been 90 years of age in August, died early Tuesday morning.

Her only daughter, Mrs. William D. Fullerton, formerly of Warren avenue, New Castle, preceded her in death. She has one granddaughter, Miss Dale M. Fullerton of Rock Creek, Ohio. Great nieces include Miss Ethel Harrington, Mrs. Daniel T. Williams and Mrs. Claude Crill, all of New Castle, and Mrs. Charles C. Erwin of Rochester, Pa. Mrs. Pease was the wife of the late Sherman Pease.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Payne Funeral Home, Rock Creek, Ohio, Friday at 2 o'clock.

SOME FUNDS LEFT

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14.—(INS)—The State Planning board today reported that $181,675 of the one million dollars allocated for the post war planning commission's program will be available for reappropriation by the General Assembly.

The money represents unallocated or cancelled money which was not distributed because of a lack of requests.

The planning board assumed the duties of the commission when it was abolished in 1947.

The commission was activated to provide financial assistance to communities preparing plans for "necessary and worthwhile public works".

Formal Diplomatic Relations With Vatican Considered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—(INS)—President Truman reportedly has under consideration today establishment of formal diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

Congressional circles said the President contemplates sending to the Senate a nomination for ambassador to the Holy See.

The matter was discussed recently at a White House conference and congressional leaders, according to one informant, advised the President against such action.

He was urged instead to continue the practice begun in 1939 by President Roosevelt of sending a personal representative to Pope Pius XII instead of formalizing diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

Mr. Truman continued Roosevelt's appointee, Myron C. Taylor, former U. S. Steel Corporation board chairman, as his personal representative until Taylor resignation Jan. 18, 1950.

There have been no formal diplomatic relations with the Vatican since June 30, 1867. Rufus King was the last U. S. minister to the Holy See.

100 Students To Attend Show

One hundred students of Slippery Rock State Teachers' college will attend the performance of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo in the Cathedral February 22.

Today, David Klingensmith, student chairman of the group, dropped in at the Greater New Castle Association and said the students would be in New Castle early in the afternoon and what about something to interest them between then and show time?

The result. The students will visit the Shenango Pottery and the United Engineering and Foundry company and then eat supper. They are bringing box lunches with them which they will eat in the green room of the Y.W.C.A.

Police Told Man Fired Bullet In Basement Of Home

Folranante J. Pisano, also known as Lawrence Pisano, East Lutton street, was taken into custody by Policeman Daniel Williams last night. An informant told Williams the man had fired a bullet in the basement of his home. A loaded revolver was found on his person. He was taken into custody for his own protection. According to reports Pisano has been ill and depressed.

Lamoree Hears Water Dispute

One Line Serves Two Residences

Before Judge John G. Lamoree on Tuesday morning, the equity suit of John and Anne Ursu against Alfonso and Mary Mathieu was heard.

The plaintiffs claim the defendants had shut off their water supply in Ellwood City and that the supply was turned on only at the urgence of the health officer. The plaintiffs ask an order restraining the defendants from doing so again and also ask an easement over the defendants' ground for a water line.

There are two houses on one city lot, both of which the Ursu's owned at one time. One water service line supplied both houses and the occupants divided the bill.

The defendants claim the plaintiff had agreed to sell the other house when Mr. Ursu returned from the army but have failed to consummate the sale. They also claim the other house has been rented to other tenants. Judge Lamoree will hand down a decision later.

NEEDS HIS CLOTHES

One of the prisoners in the county jail did a favor for a fellow prisoner recently but is not sure he did the right thing. One of the men was due to leave the jail but had no clothes he cared to wear.

Another prisoner offered to lend him his suit if he would return it after he got out. The lad took the suit and left but as of Tuesday the suit had not been returned.

Trademarks Of Alcoholic Behavior

(By An Alcoholic)

By recognizing accepted symptoms of threatened alcoholism among drinkers, we can very often successfully influence a person to do something about his drinking problem before the irresistible urge to drink has become a deep-seated obsession. From the histories of recovered alcoholics, there has been noted a striking similarity in the appearance of so-called trademarks of alcoholic behavior. Early identification of these symptoms by family, friends, or employer, and subsequent intelligent action may mean the prevention of alcoholism for one seriously threatened. If we are to single out among our population those who show pre-alcoholic tendencies in their drinking habits, we could do much to further the cause of prevention and, at the same time, relieve ourselves of untold miseries, should alcoholism result.

No two alcoholics are alike, though they may act alike. They are individual problems requiring individual attention and treatment. They arrive at the same alcoholic destination by different routes of varied lengths. Some are alcoholics after a very brief period of drinking, while others may require some ten or fifteen years of drinking before acquiring the alcoholic label. At first, there may have been moderate drinking at least once a month without one getting drunk. Then, one might have indulged a number of times during the month getting drunk on some of the occasions. As the frequency of drunkenness increases, the greater the danger of alcohol controlling the individual instead of the individual controlling alcohol.

Sometime during their drinking careers, many alcoholics started sneaking a few drinks to get themselves keyed up to a particular state of mind. By doing this, they were using alcohol for something other than the drink itself. They were trying to produce a state of mind that could not be had without the use of alcohol. This indicates a dangerous dependence on liquor and one which would inevitably mean loss of control over alcohol, if the dependence were not curbed.

When one does not know what he has said, done, or where he has been during periods of drunkenness, he has experienced a "blackout" and conclusively revealed his loss of control over alcohol on that particular occasion. Such "blackouts" are indeed red lights on the alcoholic route.

Extravagant behavior relating to money matters is another characteristic common to those in the process of losing control over their drinking. The drinker's sober feelings of inferiority generally give way to a riot of big-shot exhibitions when under the influence of alcohol. But, such a person invariably emerges from the binge regretfully poorer and heavily weighted down with remorse.

If a person becomes more or less intoxicated every time he takes a drink, he has certainly lost control over his drinking. If he intends to have but a "couple" of drinks and consistently winds up drunk, he has lost control over the drinking situation. If his drinking interferes with the conduct of his daily duties and responsibilities, he has lost control over the drinking occasion. When quantities of alcohol, time and place for drinking, and responsibilities cannot be regulated by the drinker, alcoholism is at hand and the individual in dire need of help with a serious drinking problem.

A man or woman who stays drunk for days without regard for family work or other requirements, commits such a serious violation of all social and cultural standards that such action cannot be considered a matter of choice. Certainly, there must be some underlying defect or disorder causing such abnormal behavior. Unless there is evident some history of mental difficulties prior to one's drinking, men and women setting out on unpredictable benders must be considered as victims of alcoholism—persons suffering from a compulsion to drink in spite of the awareness that such will only bring disaster to them.

The need for a drink in the morning represents a very definite alcoholic symptom. At this stage of one's breakdown, the problem drinker has found that he cannot go through the routine motions of his daily tasks without being fortified with a drink to soothe his screaming nerves—and he usually ends up drunk again so that he can't perform any of the routine. Gradually, there dawns the period when the drinker begins to protect his liquor supply—hiding it in every conceivable, as well as inconceivable nook and cranny. By this time, he has probably developed a feeling of being isolated—of not being wanted and not belonging. He solves this painful feeling by more and more drinking, and more and more by himself. This is the pitiful stage of solitary drinking. He can't be happy sober, yet he gets little relief when drinking. He shows a marked tendency to lie about his drinking and to bitterly resent criticism of his drinking habits. Irritability, suspicion and unfound jealousy creep into his make-up and he generously lays all the blame for his condition everywhere other than upon himself.

The average alcoholic suffers from undernourishment, irregular routine, inadequate sleep, unrelieved tension and attitudes of hopelessness. His inner mental conflicts constantly demand relief which he can only find in increased drinking. Remorse gnaws at him until he hates himself for his helpless situation. There are swift changes of mood, crafty explanations, lofty ambitions with little or no effort expended to realize them, and frequent changes from place to place and job to job. He has few, if any friends, shuns group activities and avoids any hobbies. The typical alcoholic does little other than drink.

Occasionally, the alcoholic may try to overhaul his drinking pattern by trying the water wagon for a spell. This may be an attempt to stop drinking entirely, but more likely a move to let time intervene with the hope that he will miraculously change and be able to resume drinking like other normal, controlled drinkers. Everyone knows that one cannot stay up on a "wagon" forever. Something else is the solution. Shakespeare wisely said: "The fault is not our stars, but in ourselves". The alcoholic's trouble is not so much the bottle as it is within himself. However, changing the pattern of drinking in any restricted manner simply represents a final, desperate effort to continue drinking in a harmless manner, in spite of all the past evidence to the contrary.

Resentments crowd the lives of all alcoholics. Anyone or anything in opposition to him produces violent resentment. If he doesn't get what he wants, when he wants it, is is usually a quick retreat for the bottle. Resentments are the direct cause of more benders than any other contribtuing factor.

Possessed of terrifying fears, the result of endless pain associated with alcoholism, the alcoholic reaches his lowest ebb when his savage drinking no longer offers him any relief. Physically, morally and spiritually bankrupt, to say nothing of financial difficulties in most cases, his hope, ambition and energy may well be drained dry. At this point, he may be ripe for the process of rehabilitiation and recovery. Certainly, he should be helped and every effort made to guide him from his wilderness of despair and uselessness.

The next article will consider the recovery approach to an alcoholic.

Heart And Blood Vessel Diseases Take Huge Toll

Heart and blood vessel diseases take more than 600,000 lives annually in the United States. This is about 45 per cent of the total deaths from all causes, Calvin L. Rasey, chairman of the 1951 Heart Fund campaign, states.

In addition, an estimated nine to 10 million Americans have some form of heart or circulatory disease, among them 500,000 elementary and high school children. Over the age of 45, when human productivity is at its peak, one out of every two deaths is caused by heart diseases.

You can help check the nation's leading killer and disabler by supporting the 1951 Heart Fund drive, which is being conducted by the American Heart Association and its affiliates, Mr. Rasey states. Contributions can be sent to the Western Pennsylvania Heart Association, Greer building, New Castle.

New in Style—New in Structure—New in Power—New in Thrift—Potent in Price Appeal—It's the 1951 BUICK SPECIAL!

HERE is good news for folks with a shrewd eye for what their dollars will buy.

Here is a tidy traveler that defies the upward trend of costs—proudly wears a 1951 price tag like that which zoomed last year's SPECIAL into popularity so great that it put a crimp in "the low-priced three."

Take our word for it, this is every inch and ounce a Buick—Buick-featured, Buick-designed, Buick-built from the ground up—but literally the newest thing on wheels.

The sturdy and ample body is new. The high-strength frame is new. The power is new to the SPECIAL, which now has the thrifty F-263 engine that first made its name in the SUPER, and here delivers 120 horsepower with standard transmission—128 with Dynaflow Drive.*

It's a Buick with less weight and more power—and that spells a pair of new thrills for you. There's a performance thrill such as you've never enjoyed in the SPECIAL—plus a handsome gas-saving into the bargain.

We'll make a prediction now as to what title folks will give it, once they get it out on the road. That title, in three words, will be: "Thriftiest Buick Yet!"

Better hurry around to your Buick dealer's and look this marvel over.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

We'll give you another prediction—which is:

Once this one's discovered, the demand will be terrific.

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:

Dynaflow Drive • Fireball Power • Push-Bar Forefront • White-Glow Instruments • Torque-Tube Drive • 4-Wheel Coil Springing • Dual Ventilation • Dreamline Styling • Body by Fisher

Give Figures On 1950 Red Cross Unit Production

Mrs. Robert M. Garland, chairman of production for the Lawrence County Red Cross has released figures concerning the chapter's production for the year 1950.

Production units have given many thousands of hours to Red Cross service. There were over 500 children's sweaters shipped to DP camps in Europe, knitted by Lawrence County women. Both men's and women's pajamas were made for VA hospitals, and cotton robes furnished to both veterans hospitals and the Lawrence County Home hospital.

Dozens of layettes have been made by local sewing units and furnished to mothers who were without means to provide the necessities for their babies.

Scarfs and mittens were recently sent to children of South Korea, and, items of wearing apparel, made locally have been kept in an emergency cupboard for the use of those who have suffered losses due to fire.

Over 200 ditty bags were made, filled, and distributed to men leaving for service, and others were sent to Aspinwall and Deshon hospitals.

Time-tested Red Cross services, backed by the generosity of the American people, have helped victims of disaster and brought comfort to servicemen, have provided blood plasma, trained volunteers in first aid, instructed in nurse's aid, taught nursing skills, and recruited volunteers for defense units.

Pressure in the deepest parts of the ocean is estimated great enough to squeeze a block of wood to half its normal size.

REPLY TO ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

"I have just received in the mail a folded card bearing the name of a male cousin of mine and underneath that of a girl. Thus:

Miss Mary Jane Roberts
Mr. Paul Porter

On the front flap of the card were their combined initials—R.P. I presume this is an engagement announcement but I am not sure. I have never met the girl . . . do not know her address. However, I do know that she lives in the same distant town as my cousin. What am I required to do? Since I know his address, will an acknowledgment to him suffice? Must I send an engagement gift?"

Answer: You are correct. This is an engagement announcement and the correct acknowledgment is always a note extending good wishes for happiness to the bride.

Since you do not know the girl and have not any idea where she lives, how can you send her such a note? In view of the circumstances, write a congratulatory note to your cousin, in which explain your predicament, asking him to give you his fiancee's address so that you may extend to her your good wishes.

Engagement gifts are sometimes given by friends and members of the family to the bride-to-be. This, however, is not necessary, especially in this case, since you do not know the girl.

If you receive an invitation to any showers (very unlikely since you live at a distant point) or an invitation to the wedding reception, you must send a gift whether or not you accept or decline.

A wedding announcement, of course, does not require a gift or an acknowledgement.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs Must Serve His Entire 14 Years

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Jailed atomic spy Dr. Klaus Fuchs must serve his full 14-year sentence for giving atomic secrets to Russia, with time off for good behavior, despite the pleas of many noted scientists for his release.

British sources revealed that many scientists have asked the home office for the release of the German-born naturalized British subject on the ground he has repented his espionage for Russia. These scientists say he is now anxious to aid Briton's atomic research program.

But Home Secretary Chuter Ede has reportedly decided to reject all such requests for a conditionar release.

Fuchs will be eligible for release in 1961 if he maintains his good behavior.

NEWPORT

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Jean Wimer celebrated her birthday on Sunday, February 11, with a party, at her home, given in her honor. Guests included Misses Helen Jay, Margaret Miller, and Marlene Karner, of Wampum; and Miss Esther Hall, of this place. The hours were from one to five, with the diversions being checkers, cards and bingo. A delicious lunch was served by the honored guest. Miss Wimer received many lovely gifts.

Wife Acquitted Of Manslaughter In Death Of Husband

OTTAWA, Feb. 14—(INS)—Mrs. Marion Gouch Sullivan, prominent Toronto society woman charged with beating her husband to death with a bottle, was acquitted of manslaughter charges last night by an Ottawa jury.

The state had charged that the 48-year-old defendant attacked Francis J. Sullivan with the bottle during an argument in their suite in the exclusive Chateau Laurier Hotel in Ottawa last November.

The defense contended Sullivan's death was due to a brain tumor. Mrs. Sullivan was originally charged with murder but this was reduced to manslaughter before the 10-day trial.

Senator Taft Says Defense Should Be First For U.S.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 14.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) D., asserted in Des Moines last night that defense should be first and "peace second" as objectives of U.S. foreign policy.

"Mr. Republican," addressing an Iowa GOP Lincoln Day rally, reiterated his belief that this country should strengthen its sea and air forces and avoid a large commitments of troops to Europe.

Taft insisted he was not advocating "running out on Europe" but said Congress and the American people should have a part in deciding how many troops should be sent overseas.

Draft-U.M.T. Bill Is About Ready For Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(INS)—The senate armed services committee expects to approve today a draft-universal military training bill which supporters claim will "meet the demands of a danger that has no foreseeable end".

The long-range measure would make 18-year-old youths liable to the draft on a limited basis in the immediate future and provide a UMT program for a later date when the president decides the armed services have reached a sufficient size at which it is safe to level off.

Work of Committee

The bill is the work of the senate preparedness subcommittee which in a report warned that the "only trained reservists available to meet some future Korea will be the veterans of this Korea" unless some way is found to fede trained men into the resevres."

"The subcommittee does not contend that a system of universal military training is all we need for our security. But it does contend that without such a system, all other elements of any program for national security are basically inadequate."

Men inducted under the bill would go into the reserves for about six years after their discharge.

Denounce Present System

The report denounced the present "hit-and-miss" system under which completely unthrained men join the reserves". It said this system is "harmful" because it gives the "illusion of strength".

The subcommittee said that "reduced to simplest terms, the two most pressing needs for the legislation are:

"1. The security of the nation requires the most prompt possible build-up of our armed forces.

"2. We must now decide upon an enduring system of training and manpower readiness to meet the demands of a danger that now has no foreseeable end."

With the bill on the lawbooks, the report said that the only additional military manpower legislation congress would need to pass even in event of global war would be amendments for the induction of veterans and a raising of the draft age, which now stops at 26.

Subcommittee Chairman Johnson (D) Tex., said the bill can be a "solid cornersotne to a half-century of American strength".

He reminded the full committee of the recent statement by Gen. Collins, army chief of staff, that the United States now has but one ready division available at home for the defense of the United States.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A little girl was having a hard time in Brentano's Book Store selecting a book to be given to her mother as a birthday gift. "Does she like fiction?" asked the clerk. The little girl shook her head. "Biography? History? Books on art? Humor?" The little girl continued to register disapproval. Finally the exasperated clerk demanded, "Well, what on earth DOES she like?" The little girl said, "Men."

Ilka Chase, ebullient actress and authoress, waxed philosophical on a TV program the other night, and told the story of two teardrops floating gently down the river of time. One asked the other, "Where did you originate?" The answer was, "I am the tear of a maiden who adored a man but lost him. And whose tear are you?" "I", said the first one, "am the tear of the girl who got him."

ORDERED TO STAND TRIAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Federal Judge Weinfeld today ordered Julius Rosenberg, his wife Ethel and Morton Sobell to stand trial on March 8 on charges of conspiring to commit espionage in passing A-bomb secrets to Russia.

The government has accused the trio of conspiring with Anatole Yakolev, former Soviet counsel in New York, and with former army sergeant David Greenglass.

Greenglass, who is a brother of Mrs. Rosenberg, pleaded guilty to the conspiracy charge last month and may be used as a government witness.

Rosenberg and Sobell are held in $100,000 bail and the woman in $50,000.

Sterling Bloc Blamed For Ills

Barrett Says They Control Foreign Policy

Sensational charges that the State department is dominated by a group seeking monopolistic control of world trade through a small group of international bankers with headquarters in England and the United States, operating through a group of nations where all money values are controlled by the Bank of England and which is called the "Sterling Bloc", were made by Carlton A. Barrett, chairman of foreign relations of the Pennsylvania department of the American Legion, in an address before the Perry S. Gaston Post of the American Legion in the Legion Home Tuesday evening.

Group Controlled

This group of nations, comprising the sterling block includes all of the nations of the world with the exception of the United States, Russia, Germany and Scandinavia., and is controlled either through international monetary exchange agreements based on the British pound sterling or bilateral trade agreements. They force these nations to sell their raw materials and foodstuffs to England and then force them to spend the money they receive for these raw materials and foodstuffs back in England for manufactured goods at an enormous profit to the banking houses which control the sterling bloc, he stated.

This small group of international bankers who control the sterling bloc is represented in the United States by a group of investment brokerage houses, he stated.

He charged that the Marshall Plan was conceived by this international group who controlled the sterling bloc and used Marshall as the front man and William Clayton, then undersecretary of state, as the real policy maker. Under this plan the United States committed itself to a program of furnishing approximately 25 billions in foods, goods and machinery to rebuild Europe over a four-year period, with England getting the lion's share.

Trade with Enemy

Among the representatives of this group, which have held high positions in our government, he charged, were Edward W. Stettinius of J. P. Morgan and Co., W. Averill Harriman of Brown Brothers, Harriman and Co., James V. Forrestal, president of Dillon, Reed & Co., Robert Lovett, undersecretary of state, a partner in Brown Brothers, Harriman and Co., John Foster Dulles, special advisor of the firm of Sullivan and Cromwell, international lawyers, and Clayton of the cotton brokerage firm.

As early as 1946 the countries of western Europe began to enter into trade agreements with countries behind the iron curtain, and have continued to renew these trade agreements every year to date. Under these trade agreements the countries of western Europe have traded every type of strategic war material for Soviet gold, he charged.

England, he charged, is currently selling steel and copper to red China through Hong Kong, which is one reason for England withdrawing from the Marshall Plan.

Under pressure of public opinion the administration here has stopped American concerns from doing business with countries behind the iron curtain and is putting pressure on Marshall Plan countries to do likewise.

If we would reconstitute our State department and put a man in the office of secretary of state who is truly an American, many countries now holding aloof from us would rally to our standard immediately.

He advocated rearming western Germany, Japan and Nationalist China, and said we should endeavor to make Spain as strong militarily as possible, as Spain would be our foothold in Europe in the event of war.

At the conclusion of his address the post adopted a resolution urging that the mandate of the last national convention of the American Legion in Los Angeles on foreign relations be vigorously prosecuted.

Presbyterians To Hear Talks On Atom Bomb And Defense

Members of the First Presbyterian church will have the opportunity of hearing Bart Richards and Paul G. Dingledy speak on the atom bomb, and what can be done if an atomic attack occurs, and also what plans are under way for civilian defense, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Both men attended a two-day meeting held recently at Harrisburg, when the subject was explored at great length, and they will give the audience the benefit of the knowledge they secured on this subject at these meetings.

New York Woman In Paris Reported Attacked And Robbed

PARIS, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Police reported today that a 30-year-old New York City woman was seized last night in Paris by two men who drove her outside the city where she was criminally attacked and robbed.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Paulette Payen who said she was dragged into the car near the Place De La Concorde, gagged and driven to a spot along a deserted road running through the forest of Vincennes.

She told police that after the attack the men, believed to be Algerians, took her rings and handbag.

The men disappeared and left her to wander two hours in the rain before she was found by police.

Oyster Stew For Legion Of Honor

Thursday evening promises to be a big night with the Legion of Honor, a fine program of entertainment having been arranged for the evening, including movies, topped off with an oyster stew. The meeting will be at 8 o'clock.

Several other innovations are planned during the evening, Commander Robert L. Pearsall announces, and the largest attendance of the year is being anticipated.

Three Miners Are Killed By Fumes

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Feb. 14.—(INS)—The death of three miners in a coal pit near Shamokin was blamed today on atmospheric conditions allowing carbon monoxide fumes from a gasoline power pump to settle in the working.

The victims were identified as Joseph Spishock, 40, and George Wisniewski, 23, both of Marion Heights, and Guy Mowery, 21, of Natilie.

They were pronounced dead last night of asphyxiation in Shamokin hospital.

The bodies were found by Spichock's son at the bottom of a 30-foot slope.

Andrew Wallick, of Shamokin, secretary of the Independent Miners Association, said the fumes had settled because of atmospheric conditions. The pump was used to draw water from the working.

Jewish Veterans To Meet Tonight

Members of the Jewish War Veterans organization will meet this evening at 8:30 o'clock, in the Cosmo club rooms, North Mercer street.

An important session is slated with all members to be present according to the adjutant.

Dairy Day To Occur Friday

County Dairymen To Have Annual Program

Friday will be Lawrence County Dairy Day, under the auspices of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, when an all-day meeting will take place in the court house, starting at 10:15 a. m.

The speakers will include Clyde Hall, dairy specialist, and N. H. Wooding, agronomy engineer, of Penn State college.

Mr. Hall will discuss, care of the dry cow, and planning a cattle feeding program. Mr. Wooding will discuss barn ventilation, and use of the mow hay finisher.

There will also be a report on the State Brucellosis program, and a discussion of proper methods of making grass silage for 1951.

This meeting is open to any dairyman in the county.

Joseph Kauffman Dies On Tuesday

Report That Hanley Promissory Note Is Admitted Hoax

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Former New York Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley reportedly admitted to a Senate elections subcommittee counsel that his "$150,000 promissory note" was a hoax.

It was learned today that Hanley also solved another mystery by repudiating the story that he had spent the $150,000 to pay the double-liability on $75,000 worth of stock in a Muscatine, Ia., bank that failed.

Hanley could not be reached immediately for a statement.

C. C. Hageman of Muscatine, Ia., supposed holder of the $150,000 note had denied any knowledge of it, and subcommittee investigators found no record of stockholding in a Muscatine bank by Hanley.

The "note" turned up as subcommittee agents investigated the "Hanley letter"—which indicated he withdrew from the governorship race and ran as the GOP Senate candidate because of his need for financial security.

The one-cent piece ceases to be legal tender in excess of 25 cents in any one payment.

The first commercial ingot of aluminum was poured in Pittsburgh in 1888.

Breaks Ankle In Fall Downtown

Harry Womer, aged 53 years, of 24 E. North street suffered a fracture of the left ankle late Tuesday morning when he slipped and fell on the icy pavement in Cochran way.

Mr. Womer was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was admitted for treatment.

State Legislature Adjourns To Monday

(BULLETIN)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14.—(INS)—The legislature recessed today until Monday with no speedup in sight as a result of the dispute over confirmation of Gov. John S. Fine's cabinet and lack of prospects for receiving the 1951-53 budget for many weeks.

Senate executive nominations committee chairman Edward B. Watson (R) Bucks hinted action was being planned next week when lawmakers return to their desks.

Members of the Shenango high school P.T.A. will gather in the school auditorium on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. Abner DeChant, president, to conduct business.

A valentine party has been planned for the evening with special music and entertainment to be under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Charles Willets. A door prize will be awarded at the close of the program.

Lunch will be served by the Wilson avenue and Deshon village ladies.

Arm Broken In Fall In Home

Mrs. Jane McCreary, aged 73 years, of R. D. 5 suffered a fracture of the left arm when she slipped and fell in the kitchen of her home Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

Mrs. McCready received treatment at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

$150,000 Gift To Bride From Joe S.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14—(INS)—Love is a wonderful thing, and the only people who rap it are those who haven't got it. So on this St. Valentine's Day, I am happy to see that there is a kinda bull market in the hearts and flowers department.

A little soft music and a little soft soap never hurt anyone. And in these perilous times, it is nice to note that the romances of the Shah of Iran (and, honey, what have Cary Grant, Rex Harrison, Laurence Olivier, Charles Boyer, Joe Cotten, and Van Johnson got that this kid hasn't got in spades?) and the King of Egypt are front page news. This certainly refutes the nasty rumors that the public prints are only interested in sex, murder and arson.

Anyway, I was real glad to read that Joe Stalin had sent the Shah's bride a $150,000 sable coat and that, by golly, it snowed on the wedding day! You can't beat that kind of timing.

Strict Austerity

It seemed to me that Joe's present sort of made up to the bride for the Shah's orders that, out of deference to these trying times, the wedding and reception be marked by strict austerity.

Now here was a nice kid marrying a king—something that only happens once in a girl's life time—and she had every right to look forward to a nice wedding, something she could remember on dull days in the harem.

But, no! his majesty put his foot down even before the wedding, showing who is going to rule the roost in that family. Imagine a high-spirited American girl knuckling down under even before she had a wedding ring!

So here is this nice girl condemned to go to the altar in a little old rag stitched up by Christian Dior and encrusted with only 6,000 measly diamonds. Just to stretch those diamonds and take away the General Hoover apron effect. Dior out of goodness of heart sewed some 3,000,000 sequins on the dress and then hid the worn spots with 20,000 feathers arranged in loops.

Makes Best of Things

But trust a woman every time to make the best of things: This girl managed to cover up most of the austerity dress with a white mink cape and the consensus in Tehran is that, all things considered, she looked right nice, what, with the diamond tiara that held her veil in place.

But the Shah ruthlessly cut the reception guest list to 200 persons, primmed the bridal banquet to a mere dozen courses and set out soda pop along with the champagne. This is the sort of skimpy business that can take the spirit right out of a young girl who has every right to believe she is about to fall in a tub of butter.

However, about this time, along came Joe Stalin's present, the Russian sable coat tagged at $150,000.

No Typographical Error

At first I thought this must be a typographical error. Probably $15,000 at the outside, I figured. Then I got chinning with Jerry Norris, a fur expert from way back, and I asked him if it were possible for a sable coat to put a nation in hock for $150,000.

"First class skins?" He wanted to know.

"From Joe Stalin?" I countered.

"And down to the heels?" Norris asked.

"Just leave character out of this," I ordered, "and give me a cost estimate on a high class sable coat fit for a queen."

"In today's market, it could indeed cost $150,000 and that's for sure," Mr. Norris replied. It seemed quite likely to Mr. N. that Joe's gift could easily have set the commissars back that much.

Norris went on to say that no such coat is now on the American market, nor has there been one such in years. Said he didn't even know of any mo'om picture queens with such a Benny.

"Let me see. Iran is that nation with all the oil right next to Russia, isn't it?" queried Mr. Norris. "H-h-h-h- - - -, that coat may be cheap at the price.

Well, as I said in the beginning, a little soft soap and a little soft music never hurt anyone. Not the music, anyway.

PROBLEM SOLVED

NELSON, N. H.—His right leg crushed by a log as he worked alone in the woods, Frank Upton, a lumberman, was afraid he would be unable to drive home because he couldn't operate the accelerator with his injured limb and there was no hand throttle on his truck. He finally managed to make the journey, driving with one hand while he operated the accelerator with an ax handle held in the other.

CAUSE FOR TEARS

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex.—Police Commissioner John Daugherty sat down to his lunch in a cafe and started crying. The worried waitress wanted to know if the food was bad, or if Daugherty had received some bad news. The commissioner solved the mystery when he found in his pocket a leaking tear-gas bomb he'd forgotten about.

Will Rebuild Reserve Stocks

Corn And Wheat Acreage Allotments Called Off For 1951

By AL SPIVAK
(I. N. S. Pennsylvania Farm Editor)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14—Production and Marketing Administration Committee Chairman Clyde A. Zehner today reminded Pennsylvania corn and wheat growers they will not have to comply with acreage allotments in 1951.

"Allotments were recently called off for 1951 in order to get increased acreages of the two crops," he said.

"Producers can thus increase their acreage of spring wheat and still retain price protection," he added.

The suspension is designed primarily to rebuild reserve stocks of the two grains, Zehner said.

Current corn requirements are so heavy, he explained, that reserve supplies will be depleted substantially by October.

Livestock are being fed more corn than usual this year because of increased numbers, he said, and because a substantial part of the 1950 corn belt crop fell in quality because of frost and other damage.

Zehner emphasized that farmers should not plow up acreage which in the interests of conservation would be better off left in hay or pasture or other essential crops.

"Livestock need pasture as well as feed grain," he pointed out, "and each farmer should make sure that more wheat and corn on his land will not do violence to continuing needs for soil conservation."

Zehner stressed the value of renovation to boost the yield of permanent pastures and thus increase their conservation value.

Renovation, through use of lime and fertilizer and seeding with adapted legumes and grasses, will ease the pressure on feed concentrates, he said.

Some of the increased feed will come in the summer when it is needed most, he said, and the increased feed will be produced at a relatively low labor cost.

The Pennsylvania State College experiment station has released an early-season corn hybrid known as Pennsylvania 7414. The specimen is one of 11 now available to growers which were developed to meet Pennsylvania's climatic and growing conditions.

The new release is described as reasonably cold-resistant and intended primarily for use in northern counties where a short growing season requires maturing before frosts.

It is a heavy yielder, station official say. Its strong stalk prevents lodging, they say, and it is more resistant than other hybrids to disease and insects.

In addition, it is considered an "easy husker" with a good root system.

Ben L. Seem, manager of the Foundation Seed Stock program at Penn State, has resigned to return to his Lehigh County farm.

The program led by Seem carried forward seed development in corn hybrids, small grains, tomatoes, sweet corn, lettuce and soybeans. Legume and grass development also is under way.

TOO MUCH HILLBILLY

ST. CLAIRVILLE, W. Va.—Hillbilly music became just too much for Raymond Gelmini, particularly when his wife, Hazel, refused to care for their home, prepare meals or do washing because of it. Gelmini, seeking a divorce, said his wife had joined a hillbilly band, singing and playing a guitar. He charged that on returning from work he often found several men in his home playing that kind of music. The divorce was granted.

TWO MOPS BITE DUST

FORT WORTH, Tex.—E. C. Meyers heard a noise and saw a shadowy figure at his back door in the middle of the night. He fired a .22-calibre rifle at the shadow, which turned out to be his wife's mops.

Historical Medical Highlights No. 8

300-YEAR-OLD LIFESAVER

Modern medicine looks back to 1628 for the discovery of lifesaving quinine. The place was Peru and the means of discovery was the application of an Indian remedy to the Countess of Cinchon, wife of the Spanish Viceroy. The Countess had malaria and was treated with a potion refined from the bark of the Quinaquina tree. She recovered, returned to Spain and thus acquainted Europe and the world with the medicinal properties of this tree's bark. The tree is now known as the Cinchona—recalling the Countess and her service to mankind.

New Approach To Problem Of Controlling Tiny Virus

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 14—A revolutionary new approach to the problem of controlling the tiny, invisible — but death-dealing — virus, responsible for polio as well as a host of other diseases, was announced by an Indiana University scientist.

He is Dr. Randall L. Thompson, professor of bacteriology in the university's school of medicine.

A feverish search has long been in progress in research institutions and pharmaceutical manufacturing laboratories for an antibiotic that could attack and wipe out the virus legions.

Dr. Thompson emphasized that his method is still in the highly-experimental stage and to date has been used only on rats. There is, he explained, absolutely no assurance that it will be effective against viruses in man despite its promise.

Dramatic Weapon

The antibiotics, ranging from penicillin, the oldest, to aureomycin, terramycin and chloromycetin, the newest, have given medicine a potent and dramatic weapon in the fight against bacteria.

Unfortunately, however, they have been unable to control or halt virus infections, with the exception of virus pneumonia—caused by a virus larger than ordinary and considered by some scientists a bacteria rather than a virus.

The Indiana scientist and his colleagues decided to approach the problem from another attack.

Painstakingly, they grew and studied cultures of the virus which causes smallpox in an effort to learn as much about its habits as they could.

Specifically, they were interested in its feeding habits.

"The theory is," Dr. Thompson explained, "that if the virus could be deprived of vitally needed nutrition we could halt its growth and development."

Different Tests Made

Different antibiotics were tested to determine which did the job most effectively.

Then the viruses were injected in rats and they were given doses of the various drugs and the results noted.

Dr. Thompson said that all he can say at this time is that the results are "promising."

He said a full and formal report on his research will be made late next month in Cleveland at the annual meeting of the Federated American Societies for Experimental Biology.

In answer to a direct question whether the method might not also be effective against polio, Dr. Thompson replied:

"There is always a possibility and a hope that something will be discovered for fighting poliomyelitis."

Similar Approach

Interestingly enough, the work of Dr. Thompson and his colleagues is very similar to the approach being pressed by many scientists seeking the solution to the cancer riddle.

Cancer is the result of some subtle transformation in the growth regulation mechanism of the cell which causes it literally to run amok and "devour" its non-malignant neighbors by depriving them of nutrition.

Dr. Harvey Kidder, an Amherst University biologist, experimented with primitive single-celled organisms several years ago and discovered that the one vital component of their diet was a protein known as guanine acid. Guanazolo, an anti-guanine factor, halted their growth.

He was able, with guanazolo, to halt the growth of tumors experimentally in mice. The drug was not successful, however, in tests on human beings.

It is reported still under investigation at Memorial Hospital, New York.

Other scientists are known to be working along similar lines in cancer research.

Adaption of this method to the attack on viruses, however, is new and poses the possibility of opening a whole new technique for controlling organisms which cause death and disease.

Seek Amendment To Second Class City Law In State

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14.—(INS)—Scranton and Erie leaders met on Tuesday with lawmakers at the state capitol to discuss possible legislation validating 2-A city classification changes as a result of 1950 census reports.

Under the classification act of 1927, Scranton will join 47 third class cities unless the statute is amended to lower the population level.

Loss of services to the public was predicted by a Scranton spokesman of the two cities met with legislators from their respective counties in an attempt to iron out the trouble. Scranton's spokesman, Attorney Albert Rosenberg, presented the case of the 2-A city prior to a luncheon.

Rosenberg asked Erie lawmakers to join Lackawanna county legislators in support of an amendment to the 1927 act whereby the population minimum for 2-A cities would be 120,000 instead of 135,000. Scranton's population was pegged roughly at 125,000 by the 1950 census. Erie's population is approximately 131,000.

He asked support of an escape clause whereby no change in a city's classification could be made without benefit of a referendum among the voters.

"If we became a third class city and had to keep within a 15 mill tax ceiling we would have to cut out services," Rosenberg insisted.

Ice Gorge In Creek Moves Out Tuesday

Shortly before one o'clock Tuesday afternoon the ice gorge in the Little Neshannock creek near Wilmington Junction moved out.

Earlier in the day the county commissioners had succeeded in loosening the gorge and it started out, only to snag against a tree at the water's edge.

Mooney Brothers were called and sent wreckers out to the gorge. They succeeded in getting the tree out of the way and the gorge cracked open, moving out immediately after.

Many acres of farm land were inundated and several acres of top soil were washed out by the flood waters.

The commissioners were afraid the gorge might move on down to the Pennsylvania railroad bridge about 100 yards distant. Had this happened it might have knocked out the bridge.

New Castle Cagers Lose To Sharon Tigers 50-42

Collodimen Hold Off Canes In Sweeping Season Series

Sharon high completed a season sweep and ran its consecutive winning streak against New Castle to six games, by turning back the Canes 50-42 last night at the George Washington floor.

Newc could not summon enough push to overtake the pressing Tigers, and after the first quarter were ahead the entire game.

Pete Collodi started five underclassmen but his juniors quickly fell behind and Cooper, Racketa, Joe Bedich and Eddie Walsh were substituted almost immediately.

Johnny McKay and Walter Bedich traded successful free throws but Latsko and Larry Haims rushed in six quick points and coach Collodi yanked his beginners. New Castle led 7-1 before Eddie Walsh hit for the first Sharon fielder.

Walter Bedich and brother Joe tallied a field goal and a foul throw to even things at the first period 10-10. Ray Latsko had dropped in three first quarter field goals.

The Tigers, however, paced by guards Joe Bedich and Ed Walsh, moved ahead late in the period at 20-18 and were never again overtaken.

Walsh and Bucker forced in two-pointers just before intermission and Sharon had moved ahead 26-22.

Carl Racketa, temperamental star of the Tigers, was benched in the early stages of the first period and remained there for the evening.

Hold Slim Lead

Sharon maintained a slim lead throughout the third period although Newc twice moved within two points, Sansone, McKay and Latsko followed up Culp's field goal with a pair of fouls and a two-pointer in cutting the margin to 28-26 but the persistent Bengals ran off to a 36-30 advantage before Sansone and Bucker returned for late peroid scores. Sharon led 36-33 at the period. Latsko and Culp were given the heave-ho after committing too many fouls.

Early quarter tallies by Joe Bedich and Cooper padded the Sharon lead and the Canes fell behind 43-33. This bulge was reduced to four points, 45-41, with two minutes remaining but the Collodimen quickly recovered and Joe Bedich and Walsh scored to run up the final to 50-42.

New Castle's jayvees lost their second game to the Sharon reserves 42-41 after building up a seemingly safe margin in the first three periods. The locals have now dropped five jayvee games.

Milanovich varsity men have now won 10 and lost nine for the season, and on four of 11 league games.

Ellwood Bumped By Quips, 51-32

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 14.—Aliquippa forced Farrell down to the crucial game last night by handling Ellwood, at Ellwood 51-32.

The Quips in winning game number nine in league, will play undefeated Farrell at Aliquippa, Friday night. The Quips have lost once.

Coach Sam Milanovich used five men the whole way last night in bumping Ellwood. Burt Starr maintained his torrid scoring pace by pumping in 17 points, more than half the points tallied by his team.

The Wolverines could not put together any effective scoring punch last night and went under in league play for the eighth time; they have won twice.

Tempers Flare After Basketball Contest

SPRINGDALE, Feb. 14—(INS)—High school students from Arnold and Springdale rioted for nearly 30 minutes last night after Arnold upset Springdale, 38-37, and tied Springdale for first place in section 14 of the WPIAL.

Some 200 students from the cross-river towns slugged it out about four blocks from Springdale high school before police and volunteer firemen dispersed them.

No injuries or arrests were reported.

Union township high school threw a monkey wrench in Bessemer's title aspirations Tuesday night when the Scotties downed Bessemer 51-42 on the Union floor.

Bessemer's loss coupled with Wampum's 58-39 win over Mt. Jackson on the Mounties' floor clinches at least a tie for the Section 23 title for the Wampum Indians. With two games remaining the Indians hold a two-game lead over Bessemer.

In the third game on the county card for the night New Wilmington downed East Brook 66-55 on the New Wilmington community hall floor to keep in the battle for third place in the section.

Barber Paces Union

Paced by center Pete Barber the Union Scotties kept up the fast second half pace that has netted them four wins in their last five starts. Barber played one of the finest games of his career and teamed up with Dick Pitzer and Tom Criswell to pace the Union scoring attack.

Bessemer stayed within three points of Union until the third quarter when the Scotties stretched their lead to eight points. Again Union's tight defense held its opponent in tow.

Phil DeArment played very well for the Cementers. The loss was only the second in 10 league games for Bessemer.

Wampum Wins Tenth

Wampum won its tenth straight league game of the season as it got by the two-year Mt. Jackson floor jinx. The Indians roared off to a 14-2 lead in the first quarter, but center Bob McKinley put the Mounties back in the contest with his fine all around play and at the end of the quarter Wampum led 15-10.

From there on the winners gradually lengthened thier lead, but

Jake LaMotta Will Lay Title On Line Tonight Against Favored Robinson

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Stubby Jake LaMotta risks his middleweight championship on the scales today and, if successful there, against Sugar Ray Robinson tonight in a 15-round bout in Chicago Stadium.

The 29-year-old Italian had to weigh 160 pounds or less by noon today or yield his crown to Robinson even before entering the ring.

Robinson has no weight problems this time. He hopes to weigh 154 or 155 pounds.

This sixth clash between LaMotta and Robinson on the 22nd anniversary of the St. Valentine's Day massacre is expected to attract 12,000 fans and gross gate receipts of $150,000.

An estimated 60 million others will hear or see the match—starting at 10 p.m. Eastern Standard Time—via radio or television.

Not since 1938 when Henry Armstrong held the featherweight, lightweight and welterweight titles has there been a fight between the champions of two divisions.

Robinson Favored

Oddsmakers rate welter king Robinson a 3 to 1 favorite over the only man who ever beat him in 123 professional bouts. Robinson holds four decisions over LaMotta.

The Harlem Dandy will automatically lose his welterweight title if he whips LaMotta. The National Boxing Association has ruled that hereafter no man will be eligible to reign over more than one division at a time.

The fight is LaMotta's third championship defense since he won the crown by knocking out the late Marcel Cerdan in Detroit on June 16, 1949.

Jake defeated Tiberio Mitri of Italy in his first title bout last July and belted out Laurent Dauthuille of France in the final 23 seconds of a 15-round match last September.

Boosters Trounced By Hanks, 78 To 50

Hank A. C. basketball team continued its mastery over all opposition locally, last night by trouncing the East Brook Boosters at the Y floor 78 to 50 for the second time this year with Guy Bennet the former Wampum and Geneva star pacing the Hanks with 20 points. Ed Nevotne and Jimmy Janacone each recorded 18 points.

Manzo was best for the losers with 15 while Morrow had 10.

The Hanks took control of the game from the start and led at first period 14-12, and at the half 45-25. Coach Al Gonet used his reserves in profusion the last two periods.

It was the 14th straight win for the undefeated Hanks. Coach Gonet stated definitely today: "The Hanks will not enter the Optimist tourney here, and providing the Hanks beat the Pulaskis Thursday will claim the city-county title by virtue of having defeated every strong team locally twice this year."

Titans Rack Up 68-53 Win Over Bethany Bisons; Will Tangle With W.&J. Tonight At Washington

(Special To The News)

BETHANY, W. Va., Feb. 14.—The Westminster college Titans won their 16th victory of the season here last night with a 68-53 triumph over Bethany college.

Westminster trailed in the contest throughout the opening 12 minutes but closed the gap and went ahead 36-26 at the halftime intermission. Westminster maintained a comfortable lead throughout the remainder of the contest.

Halas and King Stars

Big Ed Halas and Pat King sparked the Titan offensive with 20 points each. Mart Dallanegra was high scorer for Bethany with 19.

Westminster continues its road activity tonight at Washington, Pa., where the Titans take on once-defeated Washington & Jefferson in the top district game of the week.

Hanks-Pulaskis Battle Thursday

Pulaskis Seek To Even Score

Tomorrow evening the Hanks will wind up their season locally when they tangle with the K. Pulaski Big Five in the second game of their best of three series at the Y floor. The Hanks took the first game of the series in a rousing 86-72 triumph and will be going all out to make it a clean sweep of the series.

This will be the last local appearance of the Hanks for this season who from here on will play on foreign courts and in several tournaments.

See Tough Battle

Tomorrow's game should serve as one of the best games of the year as both teams are hepped up over this series for local court supremacy. The Hanks of course hold the edge, due to the fact that they have one victory over the Pulaski Five and also because they are the only district team which has gone undefeated this season.

The K. P. will have a height advantage over the small but mighty Hanks, but height proved nil in Saturday's tilt as the fast charging Hanks broke away from the K. P. time after time for easy scores and when bottled up under the hoops, the Hanks are very adept in scoring from the outside.

All in all, this will be a battle down to the finish and well worth seeing, and another banner crowd is expected to be on hand.

Bill Jeffrey's 25-year soccer coaching record at Penn State shows 139 wins, 20 defeats, 24 ties.

were never able to let up. Caesar Craine played a very good game for the Indians, who worked the ball very well as a team.

Bob McKinley was outstanding for Mt. Jackson. His all around fine play helped keep the Mounties within striking distance of the league leaders until late in the game.

Greyhounds Win

New Wilmington's Greyhounds went on a scoring spree in the first half of their contest with East Brook and held off the Eagles the rest of the way to win 66-55.

The Greyhounds lost the services of Lou Ringer in the second quarter on personals and Dave Boyd went out the same way in the third frame. Bill Sholler and Tod Wilkin filled in well, however, to keep the Greyhounds from faltering.

In preliminary contests the Wampum and East Brook junior varsity teams were winners. Bill Krueger of Wampum led in scoring with 20 points, followed by Jim Kenneday of East Brook with 15.

Warriors Defeat Boston Celtics

(By International News Service)

The Philadelphia Warriors moved into a second place tie with the New York Knickerbockers last night when they beat the Boston Celtics, 104-98. Andy Phillips aided the Warriors cause with 17 assists, setting a new NBA record. The old record of 16 was set by Dick McGuire of the Knicks.

Elsewhere in the league Indianapolis eked out a victory over Fort Wayne, 80-78.

Penn State's dual meet boxing record under the late Leo Houck was 91 wins, 77 defeats, 15 ties.

McCullough Signs Pirate Contract

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14—(INS)—Catcher Clyde McCullough boarded the Branch Rickey bandwagon today and said of the Pirate general manager:

"I have never talked with a finer person."

McCullough, who had rejected his first contract, signed for 1951 after a three-hour talk with Rickey yesterday in Pittsburgh. He refused to say whether he had received a raise or accepted a slight cut.

"I'm quite happy at the terms," McCullough said.

PUBLIC SALE
Bred and Open Gilt Sale of Registered Hampshires
FRIDAY, FEB. 16TH, 1951, AT 1:15 P.M.
New Wilmington Livestock Auction New Wilmington, Pa.
The Western Pennsylvania Future Farmers of America Hampshire Swine Association will present for public auction their ninth ANNUAL OFFERING of forty Bred and ten OPEN GILTS on the above date.
Gilts combine best of bloodlines (All-American ancestry) and individuality in the breed. Bred for March, April and May farrow to the top boars in Western Pennsylvania.
It is going to be nip and tuck to make a nickel on average, grade hogs given hit and miss care. But there is a good margin for high producing, purebred breeding stock—well-cared for. Certainly you have never been able to buy the very best in purebred foundation seed-stock at so small a margin over prevailing market price.
FOR THE TOP-QUALITY MEAT-TYPE, EASY FEEDING, FAST GROWING, EXCELLENT MOTHERS, GOOD FORAGERS, EXTRA PIG PER LITTER—BUY HAMPSHIRES.
This sale offers you the opportunity to buy PRODUCTION BRED AND TESTED HAMPSHIRES, which are backed by nine years of selection and breeding to BETTER SIRES.

Stock Market Trend Is Lower

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(INS)—The stock market lost ground today. A few issues were in demand but the majority of leaders sagged under persistent profit-taking.

Chrysler was a soft spot in the industrials, declining 1¼ points to 75½. General Motors was off ⅝ at 50⅛, Union Carbide was down ½ at 58½, Bethlehem Steel off ¼ at 57¾ and U. S. Steel off ⅛ at 46⅛.

United Aircraft moved counter to the trend with a new run-up of 1½ points to a new high at 40⅝. Packard Motors was up ⅛ to 5½ in the low-priced category on a block of 7,000 shares. Buying was spurred by declaration of 20 per cent dividend, the first since October, 1949.

Curb stocks held narrowly. Electric Bond & Share was off ⅛, Kaiser Frazer was unchanged and Humble Oil was unchanged.

Big board bonds were mostly lower with rails in supply.

Grains were mixed. Wheat declined 16 cents and corn rose 1 cent a bushel.
